Diocese Elevates Three Priests to Pastorates, Transfers One

BY J. C. DASCHBACH

Elevation of three priests to pastorates, reassignment of one pastor, assignment of nine newly ordained and transfer of 21 assistants were announced yesterday by Archbishop Edward F. Hoban at the chancery of the Catholic Diocese of Cleveland.

Rev. Thomas J. Murphy, dean of St. John College, was named pastor of St. Mary's Church, Mentor, to fill the vacancy caused by the death late in January of Msgr. George A. Whitehead.

Rev. Joseph M. Andel, pastor of St. Adalbert's Church, Cleveland, since April 7, 1943, was transferred to the pastorate of Holy Family Church, E. 131st Street and Southview Avenue S. E., made vacant by the death last Friday of Msgr. Wenceslas F. Novak.

Rev. Francis Maruna, assistant pastor of St. John Nepomucene's Church since Oct. 4, 1944, was named to succeed Father Andel at St. Adalbert's Church.

Gets Sick Leave

Granting of sick leave to Rev. Francis A. Masin, a former army chaplain who has been pastor of St. Wenceslaus' Church, E. 37th Street and Broadway S. E., for the last two years, was announced by the archbishop. Father Masin's place will be taken by Rev. Francis J. Habart, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes' Church since 1934.

Father Murphy, who will continue as dean of St. John College in addition to his pastoral duties, received his early education in Holy Name Parochial School. He then went to Cathedral Latin School and later to John Carroll University. He studied for the priesthood in St. Mary's Seminary, Cleveland, and St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe, Pa. He was ordained by the late Archbishop Joseph Schrembs on June 14, 1930.

Father Murphy's first assignment was assistant pastor of St. Ann's Church, Cleveland Heights. He served there from 1930 until 1944, when he was transferred to St. Augustine's Church, Barberton, as assistant pastor. In 1947 he was assigned to the faculty of St. John College. Since that time he has made his residence in the rectory of St. Ann's Church.

Ordained in 1926

Father Andel first attended Our Lady of Lourdes and St. John Nepomucene Parochial Schools. After graduation from St. Ignatius' High School he went first to St. Bernard Seminary, Rochester, N. Y., and then to Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Cincinnati. He was ordained on May 29, 1926, by Archbishop Schrembs. On July 7, 1926, he was assigned as assistant pastor of St. Procop's Church. He remained there until April 7, 1943, when he was made pastor of St. Adalbert's Church.

Father Maruna received his primary education in St. John Nepomucene's Parochial School. Later he went to Cathedral Latin School and John Carroll University. He studied for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary, Cleveland, and St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe. He was ordained by Archbishop Schrembs on May 21, 1932.

After serving as assistant pastor of Holy Family Church from June 9, 1932, to July 24, 1936, he was made assistant pastor of St. Adalbert's Church. He remained there until April 16, 1937, when he was transferred to St. Wenceslas' Church as assistant pastor. He was assigned to St. John Nepomucene's Church Oct. 4, 1944.

Studied at St. Procop's

Father Habart studied at St. Procop's Parochial School, St. Ignatius' High School. John Carroll University and St. Mary's Seminary. He was ordained March 11, 1933, by Archbishop Schrembs. He was first sent as assistant pastor to St. Columba's Church, Youngstown, then a part of the Cleveland Diocese. He remained there until his transfer to Our Lady of Lourdes' Church, Cleveland, in 1934.

The nine priests ordained in St. John's Cathedral by Archbishop Hoban on Feb. 28 were assigned as assistant pastors as follows:

REV. NELSON J. CALLAHAN, St. Patrick's Church, Rocky River Drive and Puritas Avenue S. W.

REV. FRANK J. KUTA, St. Therese's Church, Garfield Heights.

REV. ROBERT F. McCAFFERTY, St. Aloysius' Church.

REV. JOHN P. STEIGERWALD, St. Bernard's Church, Akron.

REV. ANTHONY C. VITON, Our Lady of Lourdes' Church.

Police Nab 9 in Policy Raid, But Boss Matthews Is Out

Buster Matthews, kingpin of the policy operators, was "not in" yesterday when police raided what they termed one of his main headquarters at 2425 E. 57th Street. Nine other persons were arrested.

Apparently, Buster's son, Henry B. Matthews, was in, but he was believed to have escaped through a window of the first-floor suite with two unidentified companions.

Confiscated by police were an adding machine, eight stapling machines and a large quantity of policy books and slips—which indicated the place did a daily business of about $2,000.

Raiders Carl I. Delau and Michael Haney, plain-clothes men assigned to Lieut. Martin P. Cooney's squad, said the establishment comprised the check-in headquarters of the R. & B., Goldfield and Old Kentucky Night Houses.

All Matthews' Enterprises

All were said to be Buster Matthews' enterprises. Joe Allen, reputed clearing house boss, is reportedly a silent partner in the operations.

On permanent assignment to check the activities of holders of federal gambling tax stamps, Delau and Haney had been observing the suite on E. 57th Street.

One of its occupants, a woman, had purchased a stamp, they said, but she had failed to renew it this year. Yet known policy characters were seen entering and leaving the place.

At 2:45 p. m. Haney went to the front door, which was locked, and kicked it in. The people inside ran out the rear door, but were greeted by Delau. He herded them back inside.

Woman, Also Not In

Earlier, the plain-clothes men had questioned young Matthews on the street near by. A topcoat he was wearing then and two other unclaimed topcoats were found in the suite.

Also "not in" was the woman who lived there and had once held the gambling stamp.

The nine arrested—six men and three women—are all East Siders and reportedly had policy slips in their possession. They are being held for investigation.

Police prosecutors will be asked tomorrow to place charges against them. Save for one man and one woman, all have previous records for policy violations, police said.
