It might be hard to believe that the school year is about to begin (or already has depending on the school). Some of you might be wishing for more summer vacation while others cannot wait for school to begin. In either case, it’s going to be here soon (if it’s not already here by the time you read this).

I was reading a Stewardship newsletter that reminded the reader of the ever-popular start-of-school essay – “What I did on my Summer Vacation”. As we look back over the summer this is a good thing to ponder. What did we do with our time (one of the precious gifts that we have received from God)? Stewardship calls us to nurture and care for the gifts that we have received from God and so it is a good habit to look at how we have done this, not only over the past summer but at all times.

Have we taken time to rest and renew our spirit and body to recharge our batteries as part of living a healthy, balanced life? Did we spend time in activities that focused on our relationships with family, friends and God rather than worrying that we have the perfect pickles or potato salad for the barbeque?

There is still time to enjoy summer, to take time to relax in the summer evenings looking at the stars, enjoying a walk, reading a book, and/or making memories by yourself or with another. God has given us many precious gifts. Life and Time are two of them for which we should be thankful and should use to glorify the One from whom they come.

As the teachers and staff have geared up to begin another school year, I am reminded of another amazing gift that we are given from God – our Children – quite possibly the most precious of gifts and one that we must take special care to be the best stewards we can be even amidst the craziness that comes with schedules, school, homework, sports, church, etc.

As parents and even grandparents, you want only the best for your children, and so you encourage them to do their best to learn all they can in school and sports. You might ask them what they did that day, what they learned, and what fun they had?

As parents of a Baptized child you, at the time of the baptism, were reminded that you are the primary teacher of your child in the ways of faith. So, I ask, how are you doing that? How are you supporting the faith teachings your child received at school or in Religious Education classes?

Why not start a tradition on the first day of school with a new blessing at the evening meal? Along with thanksgiving for our food, each member of the family could relate one person or event for which they were particularly grateful during the day. At bedtime, each child can recall with a parent the best part of his or her day, and what was most challenging. How is God there through these events? This is a beautiful way to help your child become more conscious of the presence of God and a great way to learn more about your child’s experiences. By your own example, show your children that a sense of prayerfulness permeates your day, and that God has a special plan for each of us. Habits ingrained in a child’s schedule can be retained for a lifetime.

We have been given such amazing and precious gifts from God and are charged to be good stewards of all that He has given us. Let us be sure that we stop and take stock in what we have and what we are doing to prosper these gifts.

Labor Day

Mass on Monday, Labor Day, will be celebrated at 8:00 a.m. As we celebrate this Labor Day Holiday, let’s reflect on some dimensions of “work.”

• Pray for all workers, especially those who work in sweatshops, are on strike, downsized, locked out or left unemployed.

• Make sure that repairs and construction work are done by contractors and subcontractors that treat workers justly.

• Talk about how you can practice your faith on the job.

• Encourage public policies that seek justice and equality for workers.

• Know your rights and the rights of others and then support them.

• Raise worker justice issues to appropriate authorities.

• Do your own work with dignity and integrity.

Work on at least one of these things over the next month! Pope Paul VI said: “In work it is the human person who comes first, not work!”

Annual Picnic/BBQ

Come join us for our Annual St. Bruno Parish FREE Picnic/BBQ on Sept. 14, right after the 10:30 a.m. Mass. All Parishioners are invited! Bring your families as well as friends from outside of the Parish, and enjoy fun, fellowship and food.

THE SEASON OF RCIA IS COMING SOON!
RCIA stands for RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION OF ADULTS. This season of RCIA is a time for learning about the Catholic Faith, along with fellowship with those who are also on the faith journey. Many people have questions about the Catholic faith. Some of them come from other faith traditions and others come with no affiliation to a religious group. But all of them come because they want to learn about this wonderful worldwide Catholic Faith. Classes begin in the month of October. I usually schedule two classes per month and try to pick a day and time that works best for all those concerned. If you or anyone else that you know would like to become “Catholic”, please contact me, Karen Warnes. My cell phone number is 414-807-8453, or email me at kwarnes@wi.rr.com.
