During the month of September, focus on this corporal work of Mercy:

Clothe the Naked

“Solidarity presumes the creation of a new mindset which thinks in terms of community and the priority of the life of all over the appropriation of goods by a few.”

(Pope Francis, The Joy of the Gospel, #188)

Works of Mercy usually begin as acts of charity. Today it is essential that they become acts of justice to effect changes in structures that support poverty.

- Purchase clothing from Fair Trade stores. ex. Four Corners of the World Eco-Friendly and Fair Trade 5401 W. Vliet, Milwaukee WI 53208  www.fairtrademilwaukee.org
- Support Society of St. Vincent De Paul through donations to St. Bruno’s Parish or directly to the store in Waukesha.
- Contact shelters for a list of articles needed by persons who have taken refuge there.
- Volunteer to assist older or disabled adults to shop for their clothing.
- Become advocates for products that are not made in “sweat shops,” companies that disrespect the rights of the workers in order to make a larger profit.
- Develop the practice of giving away one gently used article of clothing each time a new one is purchased.

Join Archbishop Jerome E. Listecki on Friday, September 9, at the St. Vincent de Paul Store, 818 W. Sunset Drive, Waukesha. Beginning at 9:00 am, Archbishop Listecki will lead a brief prayer service and deliver a short catechesis on the Work of Mercy - “Clothe the Naked.” You will also learn about the St. Vincent de Paul ministry. This one-hour prayer experience is open to all.
September Corporal Work of Mercy – Clothe the Naked
The imperative to clothe the naked is spoken of in both the Old and New Testament. The prophet Isaiah exhorts us: “When you see the naked, clothe them” (Is 58:7). In the Letter of St. James we read: “What good is it if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister has nothing to wear and has no food for the day, and one of you says to them, ‘Go in peace, keep warm, and eat well,’ but you do not give them the necessities of the body, what good is it? So also faith of itself, if it does not have works, is dead” (James 2:14-16).

One of the saints most emblematic of Christian charity is St. Martin of Tours, the Roman soldier who saw a poor man shivering in the cold and cut his cloak in two to share it with the beggar.

Clothing provides for two basic human needs: protection and dignity.
We probably do not see people very often who are literally shivering in the cold, but many poor and homeless people rely on charitable organizations for their clothing. One very direct way to carry out this work of mercy is to go through our own closets a couple of times a year and donate some of the clothing crammed into our closets. Better yet, perhaps we could develop the habit when shopping to buy some new clothing to give away – if you were in the position of someone who had to go to a thrift shop, wouldn’t it be a treat to find something new there? (or at the very least donate one for every one you buy).
There is a social dimension to this work, too. Often the sweat of people laboring in inhuman conditions here and abroad pays for our “bargains”. We have a moral responsibility to take a peek behind the stylish logo of popular clothing and shoes and if we find that the item has been produced at the cost of the human dignity of those who made it, we should boycott that product and let the manufacturer know why.
Clothing is not only necessary for protection; we need it to maintain our human dignity. Contrast two scenes in the Gospel: when the prodigal son returns home, the father gives him his best robe, shoes on his feet, and a ring. These items symbolize the young man’s dignity as the father’s son, and show that his position has been restored to him. By contrast, in the Stations of the Cross we meditate on the stripping of Jesus; this act of humiliation was inflicted on him several times during his Passion. To take away his clothing was to steal from him any standing in the human community, and to humiliate him profoundly.

This work of mercy also challenges to confront the crime of sexual exploitation in our society, and in particular the plague of pornography. This multi-billion dollar industry is founded on the heinous act of stripping men, women, and even children of their basic human dignity. If it is a virtue to clothe the naked, it is a sin to strip the clothed.

Consider your own relationship with clothes. Do you have some that you never wear? Try to live more simply by only buying what you need. Consider the amount of labor and the earth’s resources that went into your clothes, and prolong the life of your unwanted clothes by donating them to a charity that will use them to clothe people in a way that will help them to improve their lives. ~Fr. Chuck.

approaching! This is one of our

St. Vincent de Paul

In today’s Gospel, Jesus lays out the demands of following him, the great cost of discipleship. The Mission Statement of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul states: “Vincentians witness God’s love by embracing all works of charity and justice…the Society makes no distinction in those served because, in them, Vincentians see the face of Christ.”

Have you considered answering the call to help serve the poor by joining the Society of St. Vincent de Paul?

Thank You!
Once again we are VERY grateful for your generosity to our SVDP “Back to School” Drive! We have given supplies and shoe gift cards
