“But the tax collector stood off at a distance and would not even raise his eyes to heaven but beat his breast and prayed, ‘O God, be merciful to me a sinner.’” - Lk 18:13
There is a great deal of conversation these days about rights and entitlements. Maybe because of the prosperity of the past century, we feel that we have a right to all kinds of blessings. “Don’t I have a right to be happy?” “Don’t I have a right to a long life?” “Don’t I have a right to good health?” “Don’t I have a right to some peace?” These rights or are they gifts and blessings?

What if one day we woke up to find we had to live with what we have not received?

In the letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians, Paul asks a very profound question: “What do you have that you have not received?”

Do we notice the blessings of God in our everyday lives?

Do we show gratitude for our parents who gave us life, food, shelter, clothing and education and, maybe by their love gave us a sense of self-worth?

Do we show gratitude for the friendships we have?

Do we show gratitude to God for the gift of intelligence and the gifts of sight and hearing?

Do we show gratitude to God for living in this country?

Do we show gratitude to God for the gift of our Catholic faith?

Do we thank God for the cleansing possibilities of the power of the sacrament of reconciliation?

Do we thank God for the opportunity to have the real presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist?

Do all these blessings bring us closer to the Lord? Or do we take them for granted, almost as though we were entitled to them?

How do we demonstrate our gratitude to God for all the blessings received?

Ultimately, the prayer of thanksgiving doesn’t benefit God. It benefits us. Whatever else we do at Mass/at the Eucharist (which means gratefulness/thanksgiving) let us never forget to give thanks to the Lord. — Fr. Chuck.

......fan into flame the gift of God
“Stir into flame the gift of God” - Paul wrote that to Timothy (2Tim1:6). It’s a message for our lives 2000 years later. The last three Sunday morning speakers have provided many suggestions for sparking the flame of faith. Watch the bulletin and the website for upcoming guest speakers. Or join the mercy “retreat” at St. Bruno’s on Thurs nights. Or sign up for the Women of Christ Conf. or attend one of the Dynamic Men’s groups at either parish.
