Thomas answered and said to him, “My Lord and my God!” Jesus said to him, “Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.” —Jn 20:28-29
A Message from Fr. Dan

DEVINE MERCY SUNDAY

On the Second Sunday of Easter of the Jubilee Year 2000, at the Mass for the canonization of St. Faustina Kowalska, Pope John Paul II proclaimed to the world that “from now on throughout the Church this Sunday will be called Divine Mercy Sunday.” Pope John Paul had actively promoted the message of St. Faustina. In his 1980 encyclical on God’s mercy, Rich in Mercy, he developed a scriptural and doctrinal basis for our faith in the mercy of God. By linking the revealed truth about God’s mercy to one of the most solemn Sundays after Easter itself, he illumined the fact that the liturgy already proclaimed the divine mercy. The truth has been embedded for two millennia in the worship of the Church. Once again we see an illustration of the ancient saying, “The law of faith is the law of prayer.”

On the Second Sunday of Easter, the responsorial psalm and Gospel for Cycles A, B and C center on the theme of mercy. In Psalm 118 we sing three times, “His mercy endures forever.” The Gospel, from John 20:19-31, begins with the risen Christ appearing to the apostles on Easter night. Jesus calms his disciples by saying and giving them “Peace.” He shows them the scars of his Passion, his wounded hands and side. His glorified body retains the evidence of his saving work through his suffering, death and resurrection. He fills them with joy and again says to them—and produces in them—“Peace.” Then he breathes on them and explains what the divine breathing means with the words, “Receive the holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained.” He gives the apostles the power of God’s mercy for the sinner, the gift of forgiving sins from God’s treasury of mercy. The other texts speak of healing and give the assurance there is nothing to fear.

You might have seen the image of Jesus standing with one hand outstretched in blessing, the other clutching the side wounded by the spear, from which proceed beams of falling light, red and white in color. An explanation of these colors was given to Sister Faustina by Jesus himself saying, “The two rays represent blood and water.” This has been attributed to the “blood and water” referenced in the Gospel of John, (John 19:34) and which is also mentioned in the optional of the Chaplet. The words “Jesus I Trust in Thee” He gave her a chaplet to be recited and said that it was appropriate to pray the chaplet at three o’clock each afternoon (the Hour of Great Mercy).

God Bless,

Fr. Dan

ON THE PASTORAL COUNCIL?
This weekend, the parish community will be seeking nominations for the Pastoral Council. Here are some questions and information nominees need to consider! Do you have a deep love for the parish?
Are you being called to serve the parish in this way?

As a baptized Catholic, we are all “called” to serve Christ and the Church. Each of us is responsible to listen and respond to that call.

So how do you recognize if you are being called to be part of the Pastoral Council?

Sometimes you hear the call very plainly in prayer. At other times, you may hear the call voiced by others. (“I think you would do well on our Pastoral Council.”) Or maybe you can see yourself more active in the parish, and this would be a natural extension of your service to the parish. Perhaps you see the need, and see yourself as capable of being of service at this time. (“If not me, who? If not now, when?”)

The Pastoral Council needs to reflect “diversity”. Single & married adults, the elderly, young adults, school & faith formation parents, minorities, charter & new parish members, etc., all need representation on the council. Whose concerns and needs could you represent?

Prayerfully consider how you would like to respond to God’s call. Do you have any of these characteristics—ability to collaborate, deep love for the parish & its mission, a willingness to grow in holiness, the desire to serve, a broad vision, willingness to learn, and a sense of stewardship?

The confidence needed to respond to this call is given as a gift from the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit provides the courage we need, if we only call upon that Spirit.

Trust the Spirit!

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month
Every year, the Archdiocese of Milwaukee observes this important time with various inspirational and educational programs. We also designate one specific seven-day period as “Safe Environment Week.” This year, Safe Environment Week will be April 30 – May 6 and the theme is: "Serve with Love." Only those who serve with love are able to protect.

Pope Francis’ words offer a hope-filled and inspirational message for all of God’s children. Seeing the image of God in every person, young or old, and serving them in concrete ways helps us protect and maintain environments that are safe for all. As a faith community we have been commissioned with this great responsibility to SERVE WITH LOVE.
