Who Does Not Need To Be Pruned?

This image of vine and branches speaks to community, both strong and weakened. It has to do with the quality of our support and dealings with one another. The Old Testament used this image several times. However, in these examples the vine itself is the community which sometimes is not up to the challenge of being God's people in harmony. The vine is therefore destroyed.

In today's gospel Jesus, not the community, is the vine which is always true; and we are the branches. Therefore, if some branches do not produce fruit, the vine as a whole does not die, making it indestructible. Be careful in case again we are tempted to be judgmental. We might want to point fingers. Look in the mirror.

The truth is that we all, each and everyone of us, have fruitful branches as well as weakened branches within ourselves. The pruning is not the destruction. Rather it is the beautifying of each of us. Who does not need to be pruned? God stands ready to prune us into ever more healthy growth, into full bloom. But we need to let go. Why hold onto shunning, selfishness, revenge, envy or dead end life plans, all petty twigs? Realizing our shortcomings is not a condemnation. This here is a resurrection theme. God is pruning us into life. We are still connected to the vine. At the Last Supper Jesus took the "fruit of the vine." Every time we receive communion, drink from the cup, we drink to our health; and Jesus presents the toast.

Vocation Brief

Christ spoke of the talents each one of us has, talents which must not be buried. Our calling is to take those talents, develop them fully, and then use them in establishing His kingdom on earth. Are you using your talents to fulfill your vocation to service? Are you an active Christian in the parish, at your workplace, and in the home? Take some time today to reflect on how you might use your special talents in the service of the Kingdom.
