

Connecting Kids to Justice

Day Four

CRS helps families and communities

Improved farming, water management, and justice leads to happier individuals, families, and communities. CRS, and you, are making that happen!

Our Catholic Family

We have a family that loves and cares for us at home, and we are also an important part of the Catholic family.

As members of the Catholic family, we know that it is important for us to love and care for the people in our family, especially the poor and less fortunate. Your donations this week are helping CRS to help our Catholic family in Bolivia to have strong, healthy families and communities!

Catholic Social Teaching

As Catholics, we are called to help children and families, both in our community and around the world.

All week, we have talked about how our money will help provide water and good farming practices to families and communities in Bolivia. You can make a big difference!

Talk About It

- How do you help your family?
- How can you help families around the world?
- Jesus says that when you feed or care for “the least among us” you are caring for him. What do you think he means?
