PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION: Next week, we will take up the Peter's Pence Collection, which unites us and Catholics around the world more closely with the Holy Father in two ways: it supports the structures of the Holy See through which the Pope governs the Church as well as his charitable efforts to assist victims of war, oppression, natural disasters, and others most in need. Please be generous. For more information, visit <http://www.peterspence.va/en.html>.

LA COLECTA PETER'S PENCE: La próxima semana realizaremos la Colecta Peter's Pence, la cual nos une mucho más al Santo Padre, tanto a nosotros como a los católicos de todo el mundo, de dos maneras: la Colecta apoya las estructuras de la Santa Sede por las cuales el Papa gobierna la Iglesia así como sus labores de caridad para ayudar a las víctimas de la guerra, opresión y desastres naturales y a los más necesitados. Por favor, sean generosos. Para más información, visiten <http://www.peterspence.va/en.html>.

PSALM 92:1-2

SCOTT HAHN'S REFLECTION...

In the cryptic message of the prophet Ezekiel, long centuries before the Lord's coming, God gave His people reason to hope. Ezekiel glimpsed a day when the Lord God would place a tree on a mountain in Israel, a tree that would "put forth branches and bear fruit." Who could have predicted that the tree would be a cross on the hill of Calvary, and that the fruit would be salvation? Ezekiel foresees salvation coming to "birds of every kind"—thus, not just to the people of Israel, but also to the Gentiles, who will "take wing" through their new life in Christ. God indeed will "lift high the lowly tree," as He solemnly promises.

Such salvation surpasses humanity's most ambitious dreams. And so we express our gratitude in the Psalm: "Lord, it is good to give thanks to you." It is indeed good, and better still to give thanks with praise. The Psalmist speaks of those who are just upon the earth, but looks to God as the source and measure of justice, of righteousness. Like Ezekiel, he evokes the image of a flourishing tree to describe the lives of the just. The image, again, suggests the Cross as the measure of righteousness.

The Cross is a sign of contradiction to those who would rather "flourish" in worldly terms. As St. Paul emphasizes to the Corinthians, we need courage. Our faith makes us strong, and it is proved in our deeds. He reminds us that we will be judged by the ways our faith manifests itself in works: "so that each may receive recompense, according to what he did in the body, whether good or evil."

2 CORINTHIANS 5:7

God Himself will empower the works He expects from us, though we freely choose to correspond to His grace. In the prophetic oracles, He scattered the seed that sprang up and became the mustard tree, large enough to accommodate all the birds of the sky, just as Ezekiel had seen. He gave this doctrine to His disciples in terms they were able to understand, and He provided a full explanation. In the sacraments He provides still more: the grace of faith and the courage we need to live in the world as children of God.

OCCASIONALLY THE BISHOP WILL SUGGEST A VIDEO OF THE WEEK...you may have seen this through Facebook. Formed is a great resource for the catechesis of our families and provides good, wholesome videos, including children's movies. Consider signing up for FORMED. It's much like Netflix and other streaming apps, and it's FREE!

Dear Friends, Catechists & Teachers,

This week I would like to uplift the talk "Fan or Follower?" Jeff Cavins shares how he has come to see that Jesus wants us to surrender every bit of our own comfort to follow Him. We are all fans of Jesus, but how many of us are truly his disciples?

Many blessings and prayers.
