From a letter to the Corinthians by Saint Clement, pope and martyr

In his goodness to all, God gives order and harmony to the world

Let us fix our gaze on the Father and Creator of the whole world and let us hold on to his peace and blessings, his splendid and surpassing gifts. Let us contemplate him in our thoughts and with our mind's eye reflect upon the peaceful and restrained unfolding of his plan; let us consider the care with which he provides for the whole of his creation.

By his direction the heavens are in motion, and they are subject to him in peace. Day and night fulfill the course he has established without interfering with each other. The sun, the moon and the choirs of stars revolve in harmony at his command in their appointed paths without deviation. By his will the earth blossoms in the proper seasons and produces abundant food for men and animals and all the living things on it without reluctance and without any violation of what he has arranged.

Yet unexplored regions of the abysses and inexpressible realms of the deep are subject to his laws. The mass of the boundless sea, joined together by his ordinance in a single expanse, does not overflow its prescribed limits but flows as he commanded it. For he said: Thus far shall you come, and your waves will be halted here. The ocean, impassable for men, and the worlds beyond it are governed by the same edicts of the Lord.

The seasons, spring, summer, autumn and winter, follow one another in harmony. The quarters from which the winds blow function in due season without the least deviation. And the ever-flowing springs, created for our health as well as our enjoyment, unflinching offer their breasts to sustain human life. The tiniest of living creatures meet together in harmony and peace. The great Creator and Lord of the universe commanded all these things to be established in peace and harmony, in his goodness to all, and in overflowing measure to us who seek refuge in his mercies through our Lord Jesus Christ; to him be glory and majesty for ever and ever. Amen.

De la carta de san Clemente primero, papa, a los Corintios

DIOS HA CREADO EL MUNDO CON ORDEN Y SABIDURÍA Y CON SUS DONES LO ENRIQUECE

No perdamos de vista al que es Padre y Creador de todo el mundo, y tengamos puesta nuestra esperanza en la munificencia y exuberancia del don de la paz que nos ofrece. Contemplémoslo con nuestra mente y pongamos los ojos de nuestra alma en la magnitud de sus designios, sopesando cuán bueno se muestra él para con todas sus criaturas. Los astros del firmamento obedecen en sus movimientos, con exactitud y orden, las reglas que de él han recibido; el día y la noche van haciendo su camino, tal como él lo ha determinado, sin que jamás un día irrumpa sobre otro. El sol, la luna y el coro de los astros siguen las órbitas que él les ha señalado en armonía y sin transgresión alguna. La tierra fecunda, sometándose a sus decretos, ofrece, según el orden de las estaciones, la subsistencia tanto a los hombres como a los animales y a todos los seres vivientes que la habitan, sin que jamás desobedezca el orden que Dios le ha fijado.

Los abismos profundos e insondables y las regiones más inescrutables obedecen también a sus leyes. La inmensidad del mar, colocada en la concavidad donde Dios la puso, nunca traspasa los límites que le fueron impuestos, sino que en todo se atiene a lo que él le ha mandado. Pues al mar dijo el Señor: Hasta aquí llegarás y no pasarás; aquí se romperá la arrogancia de tus olas. Los océanos, que el hombre no puede penetrar, y aquellos otros mundos que están por encima de nosotros obedecen también a las ordenaciones del Señor. Las diversas estaciones del año, primavera, verano, otoño e invierno van sucediéndose en orden, una tras otra. El ímpetu de los vientos irrumpe en su propio momento y realiza así su finalidad sin desobedecer nunca; las fuentes, que nunca se olvidan de manar y que Dios creó para el bienestar y la salud de los hombres, hacen brotar siempre de sus pechos el agua necesaria para la vida de los hombres; y aún los más pequeños de los animales, uniéndose en paz y concordia, van reproduciéndose y multiplicando su prole. Así, en toda la creación, el Dueño y soberano Creador del universo ha querido que reinara la paz y la concordia, pues él desea el bien de todas sus criaturas y se muestra siempre magnánimo y generoso con todos los que recurrimos a su misericordia, por nuestro Señor Jesucristo, a quien sea la gloria y la majestad por los siglos de los siglos. Amén.
