Meet Your TEACHER

My name is Amanda Tiger. I am a graduate of Kean University and a former first grade teacher at Whiton Elementary School in Branchburg, NJ. In 2011, I resigned from my teaching position so that I could start a family with my husband, John. I now live in Clinton Township with my husband and our three wonderful boys, Jake, Ryan and Scott (ages 8,6 & 4). As a family, we enjoy cooking, gardening, playing baseball and spending time with our two German Shepherds, Daisy and Police K9 Tapko! I have so many exciting lessons to share with my new students and I am looking forward to having a fantastic, educational and fun-filled school year!
