This weekend, as the United States Celebrates Independence day, may Americans everywhere pause to consider the true nature of freedom, and devote once more their hearts to the liberation of the gospel!

Let us all Thank God for our freedom and keep our United States of America in our daily prayers today and always. God Bless America!

Weekly Reflection

Paul was a great saint and servant of the Lord and yet he had his struggles too. He wrote of the “thorn” in his side which he begged the Lord to take away until it became clear to him that through his weakness God’s power is revealed. His example should be a great source of encouragement for us. We all have our weaknesses and find it impossible to attain perfection in all things. But those very weaknesses remind us of our need for all dependence upon God’s grace.

The second collection this weekend is for the Immaculate Conception Parish.

The second collection next weekend 7/10 & 11 is for the Black and Indian Missions.
