"From the Desk of Father Jonathan"

Did you have the same feeling I had when Pope Francis' plane left the United States en route to the Vatican? I was sad....but also very grateful. I was sad to see him leave, but so grateful to him, and to God, for what Francis left us. He set our hearts on fire. He gave us hope. He showed us how to love.

The next feeling--once the plane was in the air--was one of excitement. "Jonathan", I thought. "now you get to go back to the parish and neighborhood and try to live out what Pope Francis has invited you to do." I know Fr. Urbano, Fr. Livinus, and our beloved Sisters Edna, Martina, and Jeasmin feel the same way.

I hope you are equally as excited to carry out this mission with us as a parish family.

On a very practical note, by now you have seen the scaffolding that is encircling our church. Soon we will begin the arduous project of repointing the brick, scraping the windows, fixing the bell towers and roof, and lighting up the exterior.

With God's help we will make sure Our Lady of Mt. Carmel is in great shape for generations to come. But as we do this work, let's not forget...our buildings mean nothing if we aren't growing our ministry. Let's do both at the same time.

REFLECTING ON GOD'S WORDSunday Gospel: Mark 10: 2-16

The basis of Jewish law says Jesus, is that all human beings are created equal in the image of God. The disciples attempt to keep some children and their parents from disturbing Jesus, probably thinking that women and children were not important enough to disturb the Master! Jesus is indignant. Gathering the children, he says self-important people should imitate them. Young children usually accept the rules of life without quibbling over details. They accept the love of parents and trust that rules are for their well-being, even if they do not fully understand them. A loving Father offers us the gift of faith. Jesus is asking us to be child-like, accepting this gift with simplicity and trust. Discussing faith is fine, but we cannot stop there.

Since we do not earn faith—it is freely given to us—we are called to express this faith in how we live our lives. We are equal in God's sight and equally responsible to live up to our calling.

Living Stewardship Now

We have an equal responsibility to serve, yet in the average parish 20 percent of the parishioners do 80 percent of the work and the giving. What can you do, beginning today, to change that percentage?

Nel contesto della manifestazione del Figlio dell'uomo e dopo il secondo annuncio della passione, Marco espone - come complemento catechetico - l'insegnamento sulla indissolubilità del matrimonio, e i comportamenti richiesti per fare parte del regno di Dio. Gesù cambia scena (Mc 10,1): va in Giudea. Espone con autorità messianica - non a un gruppo ma al popolo - l'indissolubilità del matrimonio come un principio universale. San Marco non entra nelle discussioni dei rabbini sulla legislazione del divorzio. Coglie con fedeltà le parole di Gesù, senza tener conto della clausola eccezionale trasmessa da (Mt 19,9). Marco, rivolgendosi a comunità di gentili, e andando al di là del mondo giudaico, ricorre alla Genesi (Gen 1,27 e 2,24): nell'unione indissolubile del matrimonio brillano, folgoranti, l'immagine e la somiglianza poste da Dio nell'uomo e nella donna. Gesù spiega e chiarisce la volontà del Creatore.

L'atteggiamento di Gesù con i bambini fa trasparire la fiducia con la quale bisogna ricevere Dio come Padre (Abbà), la protezione e la sicurezza della paternità divina. Alcune tradizioni patristiche hanno scoperto nell'atteggiamento di Gesù con i bambini un'allusione implicita al battesimo dei bambini.

REFLEXIONEMOS LA PALABRA DE DIOS

Evangelio del Domingo: Marcos 10: 2-16

La base de toda la ley judía, dice Jesús, es que todos los seres humanos son iguales y creados a imagen de Dios. Los discípulos intentan alejar a algunos niños y sus padres de Jesús pensando probablemente que ¡las mujeres y los niños no eran lo suficientemente importantes como para molestar al Maestro! Jesús se indigna. Acercándose a los niños dice que la gente que se cree importante debe imitar a esos pequeños. Los niños pequeños normalmente aceptan las reglas de la vida sin poner objeciones con respecto a los detalles. Ellos aceptan el amor de sus padres y confían en que las reglas son para su beneficio aunque no las entiendan del todo. Un Padre amoroso nos ofrece el don de la fe. Jesús nos pide que seamos como niños para aceptar ese don con sencillez y confianza. Dialogar sobre la fe es bueno, pero no podemos detenernos ahí. Debido a que la fe no se gana—se nos da gratuitamente—se nos llama a expresar esta fe por nuestra manera de vivir. Somos iguales ante Dios e igualmente responsables de vivir a la altura de nuestro llamado.

Viviendo la Palabra de Dios

Todos tenemos la responsabilidad de servir en la parroquia. El veinte por ciento de los parroquianos hacen el ochenta por ciento del trabajo y la contribución. ¿Qué podemos hacer ya desde hoy para cambiar tal porcentaje?
