2017:

September 21st. Dorothy Day: The World Will be Saved by Beauty by Kate Hennessy.

The life and work of Dorothy Day—the iconic, celebrated, and controversial Catholic whom Pope Francis called a “great American”—told with illuminating detail by her granddaughter

November -16th.The Benedict Option: A Strategy for Christians in a Post-Christian Nation by Rod Dreher.

From the inside, American churches have been hollowed out by the departure of young people and by an insipid pseudo-Christianity. From the outside, they are beset by challenges to religious liberty in a rapidly secularizing culture. Rod Dreher argues that the way forward is actually the way back—all the way to St. Benedict of Nursia. This sixth-century monk, horrified by the moral chaos following Rome’s fall, retreated to the forest and created a new way of life for Christians.

January 18th. - My Bright Abyss: Meditation of a Modern Believer Paperback by Christian Wiman. Eight years ago, Christian Wiman, a well-known poet, wrote a now-famous essay about having faith in the face of death. My Bright Abyss, composed in the difficult years since and completed in the wake of a bone marrow transplant, is a moving meditation on what a viable contemporary faith—responsive not only to modern thought and science but also to religious tradition might look like.

March 15th.- Who Am I To Judge?: Responding to Relativism with Logic and Love by Edward Srir

In an age in which preference has replaced morality, many people find it difficult to speak the truth, afraid of the reactions they will receive if they say something is right or wrong. Using engaging stories and personal experience, Edward Srir helps us understand the classical view of morality and equips us to engage relativism, appealing to both the head and the heart.

NEW MAY BOOK: May 17th. Tattoos on the Heart by Gregory Boyle (SJ). Father Boyle or “G” as he is called by his collection of LA gang members will be awarded the Laetare Medal by Notre Dame at their May commencement. Father Boyle, the founder of Homeboy Industries, tells stories in this book that are both heartbreaking and incredibly funny. St Ignatius instructed the members of his “company” (The Jesuits) to see God in all things. Father Boyle demonstrates his ability to see the face of God in people who we would probably cross the street to avoid. There are great messages of Christian love in this book.
