Passion

The contrast between the processional reading in today's liturgy and the proclamation of the Passion is striking. We are given a glimpse of how profoundly the word of God is fulfilled in Jesus.

First he must be hailed as the Messiah, the One who is to come. He must be acknowledged by all, though they do not know what they are saying. They think he is the promised king, a worldly king of the Jews who will free them from the Roman occupation. They do not yet understand, even the disciples, exactly where this triumphal procession is leading. In our lives, we too do not know where we are going. It is in faith that we can follow Christ wherever he may lead us, trusting that death is not the end, nor evil the victor.

Palm Sunday: The Cross Is Before Us

“They took branches of palm trees and went out to meet him.” —John 12:13

The cross is before us now with its wordless challenge to love beyond death. Take some time this week to think about events in your own life that have given you an experience of Jesus’ command to pick up your cross and follow him.

On the night of Palm Sunday in 1212, Saint Clare left her home and walked through the darkened streets to the gate that led to her new life. We, too, are called to move out of our comfort zones, to take steps to follow the Gospel more radically in our lives. Just as Saint Francis and his brothers welcomed Clare, the communion of saints encourages us on our way.

Holy Thursday: Eucharist

“I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you.”—1 Corinthians 11:23

Saint Francis was absolutely devoted to the Eucharist. It’s one of the reasons he was so concerned about rebuilding and cleaning local churches, making them suitable homes for the Eucharist. Today’s Gospel account of Jesus washing the disciples’ feet offers an antidote to the problems our human Church encounters. Francis takes this to heart in his Admonitions when he says: “I did not come to be served but to serve (Matthew 20:28), our Lord tells us. Those who are put in charge of others should be no prouder of their office than if they had been appointed to wash the feet of their confreres.”

Good Friday; By Your Holy Cross

“One of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and at once blood and water came out.” —John 19:34

For Saint Francis, meditating on the Passion was a means of uniting himself completely to the sacrifice of Christ on the cross, a way of living so thoroughly into the mystery of Christ that he was able to lead others into this mystery. He wrote in his Testament: “And God inspired me with such faith in his churches that I used to pray with all simplicity, saying, ‘We adore you, Lord Jesus Christ, here and in all your churches in the whole world, and we bless you, because by your holy cross you have redeemed the world.’” As we journey with Francis, he brings us always to the cross and to Christ.

Lazarus’ Story – March 27

Lazarus, the said, “See how much he loved him.” In their sight, Jesus raised his friend Lazarus from the dead.

Legends abound about the life of Lazarus after the death and resurrection of Jesus. He is supposed to have left a written account of what he saw in the next world before he was called back to life. Some say he followed Peter into Syria. Another story is that despite being put into a leaking boat by the Jews at Jaffa, he, his sisters, and others landed safely in Cyprus. There he died peacefully after serving as bishop for 30 years.

A church was built in his honor in Constantinople and some of his reputed relics were transferred there in 890. A Western legend has the oarless boat arriving in Gaul. There he was bishop of Marseilles, was martyred after making a number of converts, and was buried in a cave. His relics were transferred to the new cathedral in Autun in 1146.
