So That You May Believe

It is not often that the author of one of the books of the Bible comes right out and tells us directly why he is writing what he is writing. In this Sunday's Gospel reading, taken from the conclusion of John's Gospel, the author tells us that he has chosen to record these events so "that you may come to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that through this belief you may have life in his name" (20:31).

The letter of John echoes this idea by saying that "[e]veryone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten by God" (5:1)—what we might refer to as being "born again." Our reading from the Acts of the Apostles for this Second Sunday of Easter shows us exactly what it looks like when believers are born again through faith.

Saint Martin I's Story – April 13

When Martin I became pope in 649, Constantinople was the capital of the Byzantine empire and the patriarch of Constantinople was the most influential Church leader in the eastern Christian world. The struggles that existed within the Church at that time were magnified by the close cooperation of emperor and patriarch.

A teaching, strongly supported in the East, held that Christ had no human will. Twice, emperors had officially favored this position: Heraclius by publishing a formula of faith, and Constans II by silencing the issue of one or two wills in Christ.

Shortly after assuming the office of the papacy—which he did without first being confirmed by the emperor—Martin held a council at the Lateran in which the imperial documents were censured, and in which the patriarch of Constantinople and two of his predecessors were condemned. In response, Constans II first tried to turn bishops and people against the pope.

Failing in this and in an attempt to kill the pope, the emperor sent troops to Rome to seize Martin and to bring him back to Constantinople. Already in poor health, Martin offered no resistance, returned with Calliopas, the exarch of Constantinople, and was then submitted to various imprisonments, tortures, and hardships. Although condemned to death and with some of the imposed torture already carried out, Martin was saved from execution by the pleas of a repentant Paul, patriarch of Constantinople, who was himself gravely ill.

Tortures and cruel treatment having taken their toll, Martin died shortly thereafter. He is the last of the early popes to be venerated as a martyr.

Christ is risen

An Easter “Mystery”

As the Easter season begins to unfold before us, Catholics are challenged by mystagogy. This Greek term, used to describe the 50 days of Easter, means “going deeper into the mystery.” What’s the mystery? It’s not a “Sherlock Holmes” mystery story, with a clever detective trying to figure out a crime. Rather, as author Barbara Hixon says, mystagogy is “the discovery of the sacred in the heart of the profane.” In the midst of everyday life, Catholics must look for God present.

In the Gospel of Luke, two disciples flee Jerusalem after Jesus’ death. On the road to Emmaus, they meet the Risen Jesus. He’s a stranger to them; they don’t recognize him. But he proceeds to explain to them the connection between his death and the religious tradition they know well. The disciples’ conversation with Jesus is so compelling that they cannot let him go. They invite him to supper, where he reveals himself in the breaking of the bread.

The Emmaus Story story is what these Easter days—what mystagogy—is all about. We must let Jesus walk with us through the ordinary events of everyday life. He will make the connections for us to God. He will transform our human encounters. He will reveal himself in the breaking of the bread. Happy Easter!
