Keep the Promise Campaign Update #61: Celebrating 200,000 square feet of space for our students and teachers!

This update marks an important campaign milestone...

This is a time to reflect on the 200,000 square feet of additional space that has been added to our five schools, over the past five years. We've successfully opened the new SMCHS, completed the renovations at Cathedral and the Academy and opened the new additions at St. Mary's Grade School and Saint Anne School. All of this was completed in God's timing.

The Saint Anne School addition opened this fall and includes seven beautiful new classrooms, an art room and library. We also moved the front entrance to a new, secure location - with even better parking!

The Saint Anne School and Church buildings are now connected for the first time. (The students and teachers will appreciate this even more when it is winter and they don't need to put on coats when they go to school Mass!)

Five years ago, we certainly didn't know we would face a global pandemic during this journey. But God set us on this path of 200,000 extra square feet of classroom spaces that we needed right now, so we can continue to offer our students in-person education, five days a week. We are humbled and grateful for these gifts.

We are so proud of the way our students and staff have implemented our strong safety measures. Thank you for taking good care of each other!

Our schools continue to find ways to offer our students a break from the masks during the school day. For example, in this Academy art class, each student has their own socially-distanced table.

These construction projects are now completed, but our work continues to raise the funds needed to meet our campaign goals.

Please prayerfully consider how you can make a pledge or monthly donation to the Keep the Promise Capital Campaign.
