EVENTS & INFORMATION

Saint Joseph

On March 19th, we celebrate St. Joseph, the most chaste spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary. We first encounter St. Joseph in the Gospel of Matthew. We are told that Joseph is Mary's betrothed husband. Before they were married, Mary was found to be with child (Matthew 1:18). The following verse says, "her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to send her away quietly." These twenty words say so much about dear St. Joseph's character. As a just man, Joseph did not act out of anger when he resolved to send Mary away. Rather, his decision to send away Mary was based upon his desire to protect her. Mary would have been found guilty of adultery, and the punishment at that time was death. Instead of leaving her to fend for her life alone, Joseph sought to protect the woman he loved, even though he could have very easily seen himself as the victim in this situation.

St. Bernard of Clairvaux asked in his writing "Super Missus Est," "Why did he wish to leave her?...He saw, with sacred astonishment, that she bore a special quality of the divine presence, and while not being able to understand this mystery, he wished to leave her." St. Thomas Aquinas echoes this insight in his Summa Theologica, "Joseph wanted to give the Virgin her liberty, not because he suspected her of adultery, but out of respect for her sanctity he feared to live together with her."

In St. John Paul II's reflections on the Sermon on the Mount in the Theology of the Body, he states, "[Christ] assigns the dignity of every woman as a task to every man," and "he assigns also the dignity of every man to every woman" (TOB 100:6). Upholding this dignity "is assigned as ethos to every man, male and female: it is assigned to his 'heart,' to his conscience, to his looks, and to his behavior" (TOB 100:7). St. Joseph was assigned the "task" of Mary's dignity. This task requires two virtues: purity, to see, and modesty, to protect.

In the purity of his heart, St. Joseph beheld in Mary not the sin of an adulteress but the awesome mystery of God's presence. At the same time, St. Joseph recognized the virtue necessary to protect such a profound mystery. He feared that in his human weakness, he might defile the mystery by remaining close. Like St. Peter and the centurion who both said, "I am not worthy," St. Joseph did not consider himself virtuous enough to veil this mystery by his presence; rather he thought he could do so better by his absence. Because of this, reasoned St Bernard, St Joseph decided to separate himself from Mary. Fortunately, in God's gentle Providence, He sent an angel to St. Joseph to reassure him that he should protect her mystery by remaining her husband, by taking her mystery with him under his roof.

Let us ask St. Joseph to teach us true chastity in purity of heart, in modesty, and in obedience. Let us ask him first to teach us to have sensitive hearts that can recognize the beauty of the mystery of God's presence in us and in others. Then, may he teach to protect that mystery through the obedience of faith. In this way, like St Joseph we will enter into deeper communion with Mary and the Mystery of God's love revealed in the Word made flesh in her womb.
