July 10, 2020

Not long ago, I had to put together a four piece patio chair set. I had all the parts and screws. And, in my possession was the tiny Allen Wrench to connect all the parts with the screws. I thought this was going to be an easy task, as I began.

Indeed, I know I am very distant from being the most brilliant person on the planet. My elevator doesn't always go to the top floor! But, I found the task was not easy! The instructions were unclear. Screw holes which ought to be aligned, were not. The Allen Wrench was much too insignificant for doing the job. The task was completed, albeit longer than anticipated, but it was done successfully.

Being Christ-like in a society which at times is far from being Christian is not easy too. We have the instructions from the Holy Bible and from Catholic Church teaching. Yet, we could find what is taught to us may not be aligned to what others tell us is correct in our society. And, when seeking support for Christ-like living, we may encounter insignificant help is out there!

Nevertheless, we are called to complete the task. To live a life as the Lord has called us, even when it is not easy. We'll be rewarded by Him if we do so, when we come face-to-face with the One who will evaluate us on Judgement Day!

Keep the faith. And, don't give up on the "task."

Peace,
Fr. Marc
