March 16, 2021

Hey, "How Am I Doing?"

It is a good question to ask, as we approach the final days of Lent 2021. The former Mayor of New York City from 1978-1989, Ed Koch, would ask others that question about his achievements as the Number One Guy in the Big Apple. And, he would get direct and honest answers!

How are you doing spiritually as Lent 2021 draws to a close? Has it been a good one for you?

If it has been a good one spiritually, then keep pushing forward. You have been blessed and cooperated with God's grace in your life. Well done!

If it has not been a good one spiritually, there remains more time to improve! Return to the promise(s) you made on Ash Wednesday when Lent officially began. If you planned on praying more, then do so now. If you were going to embrace fasting, then start today. If you were going to do anything else special, then begin with immediacy. Yes, you can do this!

By making an effort today to create a blessed Lent 2021 for yourself, surely spiritual enhancement of your soul will happen in the days ahead. Then, most definitely Easter Sunday will really be a beautiful day for you!

Peace,
Fr. Marc
