A Message from the Pastor

Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time
October 9, 2016

RESPECT LIFE MONTH

Thoughts from Pope Francis

When we fall in love, become parents, or enter into any significant relationship, it is not uncommon to experience a shift in worldview that shapes our actions.

Consider parents holding their first newborn son or daughter. While there is no instruction manual for all the possible circumstances they may encounter, their guiding framework is the loving, parental relationship with their child. With his encyclical Laudato si', Pope Francis invites us to understand more deeply our relationships with God, one another, and the rest of creation, and to live accordingly. "Everything is connected," he reminds us (LS 91).

God uses creation to bring us into loving relationship with himself, most notably through the sacraments. We experience this most powerfully in the Eucharist, the true body and blood of Christ, received under the appearance of bread and wine, where "all that has been created finds its greatest exaltation" (LS 236). God invites us to embrace creation on this deeper level through our worship of himself (LS 235). Our relationship with Christ—strengthened by receiving him worthily in Holy Communion—helps us understand our relationships with one another and with creation.

Pope Francis warns against placing ourselves "at the center," thinking we don't need God and lacking concern for other creatures (LS 122, 68-69). But he also rejects the view that "the presence of human beings on the planet should be reduced and all forms of intervention prohibited" (LS 60). The Holy Father affirms, instead, that human beings possess "a particular dignity above other creatures" and share a distinct responsibility for the world entrusted to us (LS 119, 242). When any of our relationships are out of balance—with God, one another, or the rest of creation—all our relationships suffer.

We see evidence of this imbalance on a large scale today. Building upon the teaching of his predecessors, the Holy Father discusses in great detail the disrepair apparent in creation. Our distorted relationship with God has infected our relationship with the earth, evidenced by pollution, lack of clean water, toxic waste, and immense material waste. For example, "approximately a third of all food produced is discarded, and 'whenever food is thrown out it is as if it were stolen from the table of the poor'" (LS 50).

What the Holy Father often calls a "culture of waste" or a "throwaway culture" even goes so far as to see and treat human life as disposable. The elderly are marginalized, and the lives of persons with disabilities are deemed less worth living (LS 123). The fundamental truth that "the inalienable worth of a human being transcends his or her degree of development" is forgotten—leading to the destruction of unwanted babies in the womb and experimentation on embryonic children in the lab (LS 136, 123). Sometimes, even efforts to alleviate the suffering of certain populations lead to offenses against human life. Pope Francis warns, for example, against international pressure which makes the promotion of contraception, abortion, and other harmful practices a condition for economic aid. At times, efforts seeking to protect the environment and other creatures disregard or even attack the particular dignity of human beings. Although we are called to care for creation, the Holy Father makes clear that this approach is not only inconsistent, it "compromises the very meaning of our struggle for the sake of the environment" (LS 91). Quoting Pope Benedict XVI's encyclical Charity in Truth, Pope Francis explains further:

The rectory offices are closed on Monday, October 10th. Normal office hours will resume on Tuesday, October 11th starting at 9am.

Columbus Day

We are inviting you to join our parish "Bible Study."

For Christians the "Bible" account of the life, ministry, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Some 2,000 years after the time of Jesus His life and ministry remain relevant even in our contemporary world.

You do not need to be an expert of the bible to join a bible study. Even if you have not read the bible at all the more we encourage you to attend. Since the Bible is God's Word, studying it is a way to know God better. Through His words we come to know not only the nature and attributes of God, but also come to understand His plan for each one of us.

Saint Paul wrote, "All scripture is inspired by God and is useful teaching, for refutation, for correction, and for training in righteousness, so that one who belongs to God may be competent, equipped for every good work" (2 Timothy 3:16-17, NAB).

Our bible study starts on October 6, 2016 Thursday at 7:30 – 9:00PM at the Rectory. (room behind the chapel). The group will determine the frequency of our study. Please bring your bibles. For more information contact Deacon Rey Escalon at escalonr@hotmail.com or call him at 201 264-0145. Thank you.

Since everything is interrelated, concern for the protection of nature is also incompatible with the justification of abortion. How can we genuinely teach the importance of concern for other vulnerable beings, however troublesome or inconvenient they may be, if we fail to protect a human embryo, even when its presence is uncomfortable and creates difficulties? "If personal and social sensitivity towards the acceptance of new life is lost, then other forms of acceptance that are valuable for society also wither away" (LS 120).

Pope Francis isn't endorsing a secular environmentalism—he has a broader idea in mind—one that echoes the sentiments of another predecessor, Pope St. John Paul II. In his 1990 World Day of Peace message, the great saint reminded us that "no peaceful society can afford to neglect either respect for life or the fact that there is an integrity to creation" (7). He later addressed Catholics directly, reminding us of our "serious obligation to care for all of creation" (16).

If we are filled with the love of God, a culture of encounter and solidarity will begin to bloom. Pope Francis stresses, "We are speaking of an attitude of the heart, one which approaches life with serene attentiveness, which is capable of being fully present to someone without thinking of what comes next" (LS 226). With this attitude of heart, we neither treat other humans as disposable, nor neglect to care for God's creation at any level. Through a conversion of heart, repairing our relationships with God, one another, and all of creation, we can combat the many pollutants that poison our hearts and our world.

STEWARDSHIP BULLETIN REFLECTIONS

October 9, 2016

28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?" LUKE 17:18

Most of us live "easy" lives. We have food, shelter and clothing. We go on vacation every year and own a car or two. Most of us take this all for granted. Did you ever notice that people with the least amount of possessions are usually the most grateful? Shouldn't this be the other way around? Take time every day and thank God for all He has given you.

YOUTH MINISTRY

Participant Reflection on the September Confirmation Retreat

“The retreat started on a Friday night and went through Sunday morning. This retreat had a lot of emotions and happiness. Everyone found God on this retreat, or at least I hope so. No one knew what they were getting themselves into. It was boring at first but I paid attention and did what I was asked to do and got a lot out of it actually.

This retreat was fun for a lot of people. Everyone seem to have a good experienced. We learned a lot from the peer ministers, who helped us each get closer to God. My favorite part was splitting up in groups to perform skits on the last day. For all that are getting Confirmed next year and want to get closer to God, this retreat will be very helpful.”

FOOD FOR THOUGHT...

ACCOUNTABLE

It is not only what we do, but also what we do not do, for which we are held accountable.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Religious Ed classes started last Tuesday. The children in grades 1 through 5 met in the church at 3:30 for a Prayer Service before being escorted to their classes by their catechists. We are very happy to have several high school students helping with this program as either a catechist or an aid. It is heartwarming to see how the younger children respond to the older students. If your children are in the program, please ask questions and give them opportunities to share after class each week. You may be surprised at what you learn. The Junior High School students met as a large group on Tuesday evening in the auditorium. This faith filled spiritual evening was a great success. Beginning this Tuesday, October 11th the 6th grade students will meet in each other's homes while the 7th & 8th graders will meet in the barn and auditorium. The small group classes are now full as are the Tuesday afternoon classes. If you have not yet registered for Religious Ed for this year PLEASE CONTACT THE RELIGIOUS EDUCATION OFFICE ASAP and we will discuss your options. Families who plan to home school their children this year who have not picked up their books, should do so this week.

This Thursday, October 13th there will be a First Reconciliation meeting for parents of all children who will receive First Penance in December and First Eucharist in the spring. The meeting will be held at 10:00 AM and again at 7:00 PM in the rectory. Please come to the meeting that is most convenient for you. At this meeting parents will have the opportunity to sign their children up for either Tuesday afternoon or Sunday morning First Reconciliation classes.

Just a reminder: adults who participate in any activity involving children in the parish must attend the Protecting God's Children workshop. Please go to the website www.virtus.org to find a nearby parish offering the workshop and to sign up.

Remember to check the bulletin weekly for up to date information of all the Religious Ed news.

The readings today speak of healing and salvation. In Second Kings, Naaman, a commander of the army of the king of Syria, develops leprosy. He goes to a stranger, a prophet from Israel, when no one else can cure his disease. Much to his surprise, after a simple bath in the river, he is cured. In Luke's Gospel, Jesus cures ten lepers and sends them to the priest. Only one, a Samaritan, returns to thank Jesus for his cure and only he hears the words, "Your faith has saved you." The psalm and Timothy remind us that salvation involves justice, kindness, and faithfulness and forever links us with Jesus. In a world as broken as ours, both healing and salvation are necessary.

New Jersey's Adoption Law has changed

Beginning January 1, 2017, adoptees and certain relatives will be able to obtain a copy of their original birth certificate without a court order.
