A Message from the Pastor

2nd Sunday of Ordinary Time
January 15, 2017

Dear parishioners,

On January 5, Father Don attended the Evening Prayer service for clergy and religious at Sacred Heart Cathedral Basilica with our new Archbishop, Cardinal Joseph Tobin. On January 6, I attended his installation Mass. Following is the homily he preached at that Mass.

At a dinner party, recently, I was asked what is the greatest challenge the Church faces today. I thought a moment and replied: the chasm between faith and life. My questioner looked at me quizzically and remarked that she didn't expect that answer. I imagine that she was ready for any one of the so-called "hot-button" issues that dominate the discourse, both inside and outside the Church. As noisy and divisive as those questions might be, they don't worry me as a growing trend that seems to isolate us, convincing us to neatly compartmentalize our life, subtly seducing us to go to Mass on Sunday, and for the rest of the week, do whatever we think we need to do to get by.

During this Christmas season, God makes every effort to convince us that faith has everything to do with life – all of life. The proclamation of the birth of Emmanuel announces God-with-us. We do well to listen to that proclamation again and again; to hear over and over again that God is present in the midst of God's people. This certainty, which we renew each year, is the source of our joy and hope. We just heard in the reading from the First Letter of John:

And this is the testimony: God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever possesses the Son has life; whoever does not possess the Son of God does not have life.

The gist of the proclamation of Emmanuel is that eternal life is given in Christ and nowhere else. More important, to possess the Son is not acceptance of a doctrine a moral code, but of a person who lives now and is the source of life – and not just on Sunday morning!

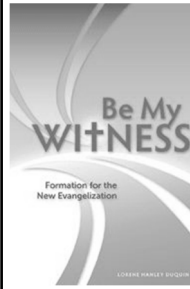

The words of John the Baptist in today's Gospel remind us that through the life-giving baptism with the Holy Spirit (Mk 1:8), Jesus will create a new people of God. But first he identifies himself with the people of Israel in submitting to John's baptism of repentance and in bearing on their behalf the burden of God's decisive judgment. The decisive judgement is this: in Jesus we all become the beloved daughters and sons of God.

Jesus Christ lives today in His body, the Church, which is neither an elite club nor static container of truth. The Church is a set of interlocking and dynamic relationships among people and with the Triune God. The Church is the place where believers speak and listen to each other, and it is the community of faith that speaks with and listens to the world. The Church senses a responsibility for the world, not simply as yet another institutional presence or a benevolent NGO, but as a movement of salt, light and leaven for the world's transformation. For this reason, our kindness must be known to all.

Through the decision of Pope Francis, the Church has called me to serve the Archdiocese of Newark. It is a daunting proposition, not because of the size, rich history or wonderful diversity of this portion of the Vineyard. Rather, the appointment reminds me that stakes are incredibly high, for if we permit the chasm between faith and life to continue to expand, we risk losing Christ, reducing him simply to an interesting idea or a comforting, nostalgic memory. And, if we lose Christ, then the world has lost the salt, light and leaven that could have transformed it. If we lose Christ, how will anyone find eternal life that is not simply an empty wish that can be dismissed as

"pie-in-the-sky," but the abundant, joyful life that God intends for us even now?

Standing before you in the presence of Emmanuel to whom I must render an account for the service I assume today, I am comforted by the words Paul wrote to his beloved friends in Philippi: "Rejoice in the Lord always, I say it again, rejoice! ... Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God."

Let's think a moment about the author and addresses of that letter, lest we dismiss it as pure Pollyanna. Paul's letter to the Christians at Philippi was written while he was in a prison somewhere and in danger of death. Although Philippi was an important city in the eastern Mediterranean, the Christians there were an insignificant minority, living with the daily danger of disappearing, either because of external persecution or internal bickering. An imprisoned apostle writing to a feeble and fragile community. Yet Paul uses the words, "joy" and "rejoice" more times than in any other of his letters. The whole book is shot through with gratitude and confidence.

Paul reveals his human sensitivity and tenderness, his enthusiasm for Christ as the key to life and death, and his deep feeling for those in Christ who dwell in Philippi. With them he shares his hopes and convictions, his anxieties and fears, revealing the total confidence in Christ that constitutes faith. His faith illuminates his life, even the otherwise hopeless conditions in which he finds himself.

So, with the confident belief that my assignment to this Archdiocese is part of the saving plan of God, I can say to my beloved brothers and sisters of this Church: Rejoice in the Lord! Rejoice, because God is with us. Rejoice, because we will grow in unity and humility and, in the process, discover joy and peace in our life together. Rejoice, because our kindness will be known to all: to the searching young and the forgotten elderly, to the stranger and the voiceless, to the powerful and the cynical.

I thank God for summoning me to the Archdiocese of Newark. I am grateful to all of you for your warm welcome. And, laying any anxiety that can too easily morph into fear, I make my request for you known to God: ... that your love may increase ever more and more in knowledge and every kind of perception, to discern what is of value, so that you may be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ for the glory and praise of God. Amen!

In Christ,

Father Charlie

STEWARDSHIP BULLETIN REFLECTIONS

January 15, 2017 - 2nd Sunday of Ordinary Time

"Now the Lord has spoken who formed me as his servant from the womb..."
ISAIAH 49:5

You have to do what God is calling you to do and I have to do what God is calling me to do. Guess what, each of us has been given a different plan! So, stop comparing yourself to others. Don't let envy and jealousy enter your life. Be thankful for the gifts God has given you and generously share them with others.

The following is an invitation to support a Catholic outreach mission trip. The participant, college student Erin Tryon, was a youth altar server here at Guardian Angel Church, and serves occasionally as a lector here when she is home from college.

Father Charlie

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

What do you think of when you think of Jamaica? For many, it may be imagined as a vacation spot for tourists to enjoy a relaxing time at the beach. To be honest, I'd mostly thought of it in this way before I investigated the country a bit more. What I found was that the place is one of shocking disparity: wealth exists there, but alongside terrible poverty, illness, and neglect. Whole groups of people, such as those with HIV/AIDS or severe handicaps, are marginalized completely. It is often the children who suffer the most, lost in the wayside, without fathers or mothers to care for them.

In the midst of these difficulties are bright spots of hope and love. One of those bright spots is a ministry called Mustard Seed Communities. This spring break, I have the opportunity to serve for a week on a mission trip with this Catholic organization.

I am deeply involved with Radford University's Catholic Campus ministry. I will be attending, along with other students from this ministry, an Alternative Spring Break trip with Mustard Seed Communities. This Catholic organization serves over 500 children, young adults and families who belong to the most vulnerable groups in Jamaican society. The populations of their communities include children and young adults with disabilities, children affected by HIV/AIDS, and teen mothers along with their babies. They also manage a number of community outreach programs to combat poverty and provide education to local populations. While we are in Jamaica for a week, we will be ministering to a community of twenty children, aged 2-17, all of whom have physical or mental disabilities. I look forward to developing personal relationships with those that we will meet: surely we will see the face of Christ in them! We will care for them, love them, and help build up their community in whatever ways are needed, showing that the love of God extends to all people. In so doing, I hope that they see Christ in us, too.

I am writing you this letter to ask you to partner with me on this mission trip. I covet your prayers- for these initial stages of preparation all the way to our travels back to the States. Please consider including me, our team, and the children of Jamaica we will meet in your prayers. In addition I am also hoping you will consider partnering with me financially. To support the children we will serve, I need to raise $1600. Your donation would change the lives of children who have no family and nowhere else to go by ensuring that they receive love and quality care. If you would like to help with this financial need, please consider a donation towards this ministry opportunity. Or, if you would like to make a tax-deductible donation by credit card online, visit MustardSeedCommunities.com, and click on Mission Trips/Support a Mission. I would love to keep you updated on developments if you are interested! I trust it will be impactful time for both me and the people of Jamaica that I meet. Thank you for considering and praying about this opportunity to help me serve those in need. I would profoundly appreciate your willingness to help with prayers and finances if you can do so.

God Bless,
Erin Elizabeth Tryon

Children's Church has continued to be very popular this year and after a short break will resume this weekend at 11:30 Mass. This is an opportunity for young children to participate in a special liturgical experience created just for them.

- * All children in grades K – 3 are invited to participate at 11:30 Mass on Sundays.
- * The children come to Mass and sit with their families at the beginning of Mass.
- * They are then called forward and process with the adult team to the vestibule.
- * For the readings and homily, the children hear the same scripture as the older participants, but the language is on their level.
- * Usually a question and answer period follows the Gospel reading.
- * After a short closing prayer the children return to their families during the offertory to celebrate Mass together.

We hope that your children will participate in this on a regular basis. Since we understand that 11:30 Mass may not be the most convenient time for your family EVERY week, please know that participation in this program does not require a weekly commitment to this particular Mass. We are always looking for adult volunteers to help with this ministry. If this is something that might be of interest to you, please contact the Religious Ed office.

Saint Elizabeth School Open House

Saint Elizabeth School, Wyckoff is now accepting enrollment applications for the 2017-2018 School Year! We are a Pre-K 3 through 8th Grade school educating students rooted in Roman Catholic Traditions and Gospel values. We nurture each child by blending traditional and current educational practices in a faith-filled environment.

St. Elizabeth School has been a National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence since 2011. The graduating Class of 2016 was awarded merit based scholarships to outstanding high schools. Last year, our students exceeded the national and archdiocesan average on the COOP Exam for entrance to high school with 100% gaining acceptance to their 1st choice school.

Our learning environment is focused on student's individual needs. A leveled reading program for our young learners and low student to teacher ratio provides an environment focused on your child. Our middle and upper grade students are nurtured and challenged in an academic program that prepares them for success in high school and beyond.

Please visit us on Sunday 1/29/17 from 10-12pm or Wednesday 2/1/17 9-11am for our Open House. If you prefer, call 201-891-1481 for a private tour or buddy day information. Please visit our website at www.sainte-school.org and like us on Facebook.
