28th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME:

I need to make a resolution to send thank-you notes. When people do me a favor, I'm always very grateful, and I have the best of intentions of sitting down and writing a note when I get home to say "thanks." And then something usually distracts me, and before I know it weeks have gone by, or I see the person and remember that I never did send that note.

Today's Gospel ought to give me a renewed incentive to be thankful. In the story Jesus cures ten lepers; only one returns to give thanks. That one is—surprise—a Samaritan. Well, the surprise is probably more appropriate for Jesus' original audience than for us: Samaritans and Jews did not get along.

When Luke put this story together from his sources, there was much more of a punch. In the following verses not read in church today, some in his audience ask when the Kingdom will be coming. Jesus tells them they've missed the signs; people like the Samaritan in the story have recognized the Kingdom's presence and given thanks.

Luke would have us heed the words of Jesus: The Kingdom is in our midst, but we truly appreciate it only if we walk with Christ in his suffering and death. By embracing his way of the cross, we welcome the Kingdom.

- Franciscan Media

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION:

"Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?"

- Luke 17:18

Most of us live "easy" lives. We have food, shelter, and clothing. We go on vacation every year and own a car or two. Most of us take this all for granted. Did you ever notice that people with the least amount of possessions are usually the most grateful? Shouldn't this be the other way around? Take time every day and thank God for all He has given you.
