ST. MARY MAGDALENE – Feast day Monday, July 22 – To St. Mary Magdalene was given the privilege of being the first to whom the risen Jesus appeared. The opening prayer of the Mass states that Jesus “first entrusted to Mary Magdalene the joyful news of his resurrection,” and the gospels tell us she was sent to the disciples to make this reality known. Among the women who followed Jesus during his public ministry Mary Magdalene is always mentioned first, and it would seem that she was the leader of this group who used their means to provide for Jesus and his apostles. From the attention that she is given by the evangelists we are certain that she was a devoted follower, and because she received the privilege of being the first to experience the Resurrection, we understand that she was obviously greatly loved by Jesus.

ST. JAMES, APOSTLE – Feast day Thursday, July 25 – James, the brother of John, was among the first called by Jesus to be closely associated with him throughout his public ministry. He was also singled out by Jesus, together with Peter and John, and was a privileged witness at the Transfiguration, at the raising of the daughter of Jairus to life, and during the agony of Jesus in Gethsemane. There is an old tradition that he preached the gospel in Spain before returning to Jerusalem. Upon his return we know from the Acts of the Apostles that he was martyred by Herod Agrippa who had him beheaded. (Acts 12:1-2) We honor St. James “the first apostle to share the cup of suffering and death.”

FR. MAX'S CORNER

A preacher was called upon to substitute for the regular minister, who had failed to reach the church because he was delayed in a snowstorm. The speaker began by explaining the meaning of a substitute. “If you break a window,” he said, “and then place a piece of cardboard there, that is a substitute.” After the sermon, a woman who had listened intently shook hands with him and wishing to compliment him, said, “You were no substitute. You were a real pane!”
