Reflecting on Living the Gospel

This story of Simon's call as Luke tells it is different from that told in Mark, Matthew, or John. Here Luke has a focus on Simon, without his brother Andrew. In fact, Luke mentions Andrew only in the list of the twelve (Luke 6:12; Acts 1:13) where he calls him the brother of Simon. Otherwise we hear nothing of Andrew from Luke. Luke also tells us in this story that Simon was "Simon Peter," prior to Jesus naming him "Peter." And we also hear about James and John, the sons of Zebedee, partners of Simon. According to Luke, this was not Simon's first encounter with Jesus. Immediately prior to the story in today's gospel, Jesus healed Simon's mother-in-law (Luke 4:38-39). So this provides more background to Simon's appeal to Jesus, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man." Simon has encountered the power of Jesus in the healing of his mother-in-law and now in the miraculous catch of fish. Faced with this Simon is utterly aware of his own humanity and humility. Jesus responds with a line that has reverberated through the centuries, "Do not be afraid; / from now on you will be catching men."

What a difference this story is in the hands of the master storyteller Luke. From Mark (1:16-20) he inherited a story about Jesus' call of Simon, Andrew, James, and John, all of whom immediately dropped their nets to follow him. Luke instead places the focus squarely on Simon Peter to the point that we lose Andrew and only hear of James and John in the closing verses. And with Simon's mother-in-law having been healed earlier, Simon's leaving everything to follow Jesus becomes more plausible. We are in the hands of a remarkable theologian and evangelist. We would do well to read his story with attention to detail.

Closing Prayer

Spirit of truth and life, animate us with confidence and fortitude, knowing that we are chosen by God. Drive all fear from us so that we may be secure in our loving relationship with you. When anxiety grows, may your peace abound more. Assured of our love in you, we pray. Amen.

For Reflection:

• In response to Peter's protestations of his own sinfulness, Jesus tells him, "Do not be afraid." Can you hear Jesus telling you, "Do not be afraid?"

Suggestions for group and individual use:

- 1. Pray aloud the "Opening Prayer" (in The Roman Missal called the "collect").
2. One person read aloud the gospel.
3. Each read prayerfully "Reflecting on Living the Gospel" and spend some time in personal prayer.
4. Share together responses to "For Reflection."
5. Pray the "Closing Prayer."

Gospel Luke 5:1-11

While the crowd was pressing in on Jesus and listening to the word of God, he was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret.

He saw two boats there alongside the lake; the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets.

Getting into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, he asked him to put out a short distance from the shore.

Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat.

After he had finished speaking, he said to Simon,

"Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch."

Simon said in reply,

"Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing, but at your command I will lower the nets."

When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish and their nets were tearing.

They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come to help them.

They came and filled both boats

so that the boats were in danger of sinking.

When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at the knees of Jesus and said,

"Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man."

For astonishment at the catch of fish they had made seized him and all those with him,

and likewise James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners of Simon.

Jesus said to Simon, "Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching men."

When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.
