

A reading from the first Letter of Saint Paul to the Corinthians:

Brothers and sisters:
The body is not for immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord is for the body; God raised the Lord and will also raise us by his power. Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? But whoever is joined to the Lord becomes one Spirit with him. Avoid immorality. Every other sin a person commits is outside the body, but the immoral person sins against his own body. Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God, and that you are not your own? For you have been purchased at a price. Therefore glorify God in your body.

PRAYER AGAINST CORONAVIRUS

Lord Jesus Christ, our Divine Physician, we ask you to guard and protect us from Coronavirus COVID-19 and all serious illness. For all that have died from it, have mercy; for those that are ill now, bring healing. For those searching for a remedy, enlighten them; for medical caregivers helping the sick, strengthen and shield them. For those working to contain the spread, grant them success; for those afraid, grant peace. May your precious blood be our defense and salvation. By your grace, may you turn the evil of disease into moments of consolation and hope. May we always fear the contagion of sin more than any illness. We abandon ourselves to your infinite mercy. Amen. -Pedro de la Cruz

Reflecting on Living the Gospel

As we begin our journey through Ordinary Time, the gospel begins with looking and gazing and responding to the call to discipleship. The two disciples ask Jesus, the Teacher ("Rabbi"), where he is staying, and he responds by inviting them to "Come, and you will see." Their question is about a place; their experience is about abiding for the rest of the day in a relationship with a person, about the beginning of a new communion between the people and this Lamb of God. The "where" is not as important as the "with whom." The pattern of discipleship is established: through witness (of the Baptist), others follow and experience Jesus's truth for themselves. They in turn bring others to Jesus.

One of the first two who followed Jesus remains anonymous, perhaps as a Johannine invitation to future readers to see a challenge to themselves in the following seeking pattern of discipleship. The other is later named as Andrew, who announces to his brother, Simon Peter, that he has found the Messiah. Like the first disciples, we all see something different in this same Jesus, and Jesus recognizes the truth in us, just as in this first chapter of the fourth gospel, Jesus's insight into Simon's role in the community of the disciples suggests his renaming as Cephas (in Aramaic, kepha; in Greek, petra; in English, rock).

This gospel proclaims that all discipleship is an active and involving relationship with Jesus: a following, seeking, staying, finding, and dialoguing with him. We hear how each decision to follow Jesus is a response to a statement about Jesus's identity as Lamb of God, Rabbi, Messiah, by people whose ears and hearts are open to the Word of God, who hear his invitation through the words of friend or stranger, through events of joy or sorrow, or who discern a moment of religious significance in the everyday.

Closing Prayer

Most Holy Counselor, you guide us in paths of truth and righteousness. In trust we respond to your call, Come, and you will see. Show us your love, mercy, and truth; grant us your salvation, for you are God, forever and ever. Amen.

For Reflection:

• In today's gospel Jesus is identified as the Lamb of God, as Teacher, and as Messiah. What do these titles tell you about Jesus's identity?

Suggestions for group and individual use:

1. Pray aloud the "Opening Prayer" (in The Roman Missal called the "collect").
2. One person read aloud the gospel.
3. Each read prayerfully "Reflecting on Living the Gospel" and spend some time in personal prayer.
4. Share together responses to "For Reflection."
5. Pray the "Closing Prayer."

Gospel

John 1:35-42

John was standing with two of his disciples,
 and as he watched Jesus walk by, he said,
 "Behold, the Lamb of God."

The two disciples heard what he said and followed Jesus.

Jesus turned and saw them following him and said to them,
 "What are you looking for?"

They said to him, "Rabbi"—which translated means Teacher—,
 "where are you staying?"
 He said to them, "Come, and you will see."

So they went and saw where Jesus was staying, and they stayed with him that day. It was about four in the afternoon.

Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard John and followed Jesus.

He first found his own brother Simon and told him,
 "We have found the Messiah"—which is translated Christ.

Then he brought him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said,
 "You are Simon the son of John; you will be called Cephas"—which is translated Peter.
