February 10, 2021

Dear Parents,

Each year at this time the Archdiocese of Mobile invites our community to unite through the Annual Catholic Charities Appeal. This is the 90th anniversary for the Catholic Charities Appeal that supports more than thirty ministries throughout central and southern Alabama.

I would like to welcome our children to participate in this important effort. I invite you to take this opportunity to explain to your children the importance of Christian stewardship and our call to be generous to those in need.

Please, share with them how your family contributes to the Church and other charities. By our witness of stewardship to our children, we are answering the call to be good stewards of the gifts He gave to us.

Children are asked to participate through prayer, acts of service, or by making a financial donation from their own resources of any amount. The most important part is that they understand the impact of their participation, the meaning of generous stewardship, and how Jesus has called us to serve one another.

Thank you for your generosity and the witness of faith you are to your children.

With sincere gratitude,

Shannon D. Roh

Executive Director of Development and Stewardship
Archdiocese of Mobile
