St. Andrew’s Community Garden is an outreach ministry that was established under the inspiration of Msgr. Robert Siler and the late Don Davies. Plots are rented to parishioners and community members to grow pesticide-free vegetables and flowers. This community effort cultivates plots used to share produce with local food banks. Local farms and businesses donate labor and materials to maintain the garden. St. Andrew’s Community Garden has served as a role model to other community gardens and promoted organic gardening. Since its inception, our garden has donated 8.65 TONS of produce to Ellensburg food banks!! We can be proud of our contribution to healthy eating for all. To rent a plot or to learn more, contact Jeanette Pacha 509-925-3382

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION June 24th, 2018.

The Book of Wisdom is part of what are called the wisdom books, which include Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Songs, Job, and Sirach.

The underlying of St. Paul’s message in 2 Corinthians, is the idea of giving. If wisdom involves understanding the need to give, it follows that there are reasons for that. There was some friction between Paul and the Corinthian community. Paul sent his follower Titus to hand carry this letter and present it to them, because Paul wanted Titus to be able to explain and enhance.

Paul rightfully points to Jesus as the ultimate example of giving. Paul says in this reading, “for your sake he became poor, so that by his poverty you might become rich.” Rich does not always mean having lots of assets or money in the bank. It means you have the wisdom to see that through Jesus’ promise to you, you are richer beyond imagination.

In the Gospel from Mark, Jesus shows us what “healing” and “wisdom” really are. First, we must put ourselves in the presence of Jesus; next, we must humble ourselves before the Lord. Third, we must make our request sincerely; and finally, we must believe and have confidence in the Lord.

However, before Jesus heals the daughter, He experiences a woman in need of healing. Because of her condition, she was considered “unclean” by others; in fact, if she touched anyone else or any part of their clothing, they, too, would be made unclean. With Jesus, that is not the way it works though. Because of the power of God, Jesus was not made “unclean,” but the woman was cured. “Daughter, your faith has saved you. Go in peace and be cured of your affliction.” Note that the Lord called her “Daughter.” There is no other instance in all of Holy Scripture when Jesus calls someone by this name. Jesus wanted her to know that He had something special to give her. Jesus has something special to give to each of us also.

Next the Lord raises Jairus’ daughter from death. As quoted in the introduction, Jesus said, “Do not be afraid; just have faith.” Jesus is saying two things to Jairus, and the same two things to us. Before Jairus and we can trust Jesus we need to put away our fears. To “have faith” is to believe.
