The Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus returns to the issue of those who enter the kingdom. Most think that underlying the children passage in 10:13 there is the correction of a wrong attitude that would demand achievement, abilities behavior or status on the part of those who are brought to the kingdom, whereas for Jesus the kingdom rule of God requires only human receptivity of which a child is a good symbol. This interpretation brings Mark quite close to Paul's notion of justification by faith. But how do adults show or express receptivity? That is the issue behind the question of the rich man in 10:17. In response Jesus does not depart from the commandments of God enunciated in the OT; but when the man says he has observed them, Jesus lovingly asks him to sell his possessions and give the proceeds to the poor. Is that part of what is necessary to inherit eternal life? or does it apply only to a special discipleship of walking with Jesus? Certainly not all the early Christians sold their possessions, and 10:24 shows that Jesus is demanding what is impossible by human standards but not by God's. Those who make great sacrifices for Jesus' sake will be rewarded both in this age and the age to come; but the phase "with persecutions", whether from Jesus or Mark, is an important realistic touch about their fate.

El Vigésimo Octavo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Jesús regresa al tema de aquellos que entran en el Reino. La mayoría piensa que subyacente al pasaje de los niños en 10:13 hay la corrección de una actitud incorrecta que exigiría el logro, el comportamiento de las habilidades o el estatus de parte de los que son traídos al Reino, mientras que para Jesús el Reino del imperio de Dios requiere solamente receptividad humana de que un niño es un buen símbolo. Esta interpretación lleva a Marcos muy cerca de la noción de justificación de Pablo por la fe. Pero, ¿cómo los adultos muestran o expresan receptividad? Ese es el tema detrás de la cuestión del hombre rico en 10:17. En respuesta Jesús no se aparta de los mandamientos de Dios enunciados en el OT; pero cuando el hombre dice que los ha observado, Jesús amorosamente le pide que venda sus posesiones y que dé las ganancias a los pobres. ¿Es esa parte de lo que es necesario para heredar la vida eterna? ¿o se aplica sólo a un discipulado especial de caminar con Jesús? Ciertamente no todos los primeros cristianos vendieron sus posesiones, y 10:24 muestra que Jesús está exigiendo lo que es imposible por los estándares humanos, pero no por el de Dios. Aquellos que hacen grandes sacrificios por el bien de Jesús serán recompensados tanto en esta era como en la edad por venir; pero la fase "con persecuciones", ya sea de Jesús o de Marcos, es un importante toque realista sobre su destino.

Prayer and Respect

Please have respect for the House of God and those who want to pray before and after mass.

Respect for those who want to pray: Try to refrain from loud talking when you enter the church, during mass & after mass. Wait until you exit church to talk and fellowship with others.

Respect for the House of God: During Mass, Funerals, Weddings, Quinceañeras, etc. Please DO NOT bring in food or drinks into the church. We have had people bring in Coke cans, Sonic cups, coffee cups, McDonalds food etc. (Water is an exception for the elderly and ill.)

We understand mothers may need to bring snacks for their babies, please clean up if your child spills it on the floor or on the pew. Thank You! for your cooperation

Oración y Respeto

Por favor, respeten la casa de Dios y los que quieran orar antes y después de la Misa.

Respeto a los que quieren orar: traten de abstenerse de hablar en voz alta cuando entren a la iglesia, durante la Misa y después de la Misa. Espere hasta que salga de la iglesia para hablar y visitar con otros.

Respeto por la casa de Dios: durante Misa, funerales, bodas, quinceañeras, etc. Por favor, no traiga comida ni bebidas a la iglesia. Hemos tenido gente traer latas de Soda, copas de Sonic, tazas de café, comida de McDonalds, etc (agua es una excepción para los ancianos y enfermos.)

Entendemos que las madres pueden necesitar traer bocadillos para sus bebés, por favor, limpie si su niño lo derrama sobre el piso o en las bancas.

¡Gracias! por su cooperación.
