Thirty Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

With these words from the parable of the ten bridesmaids, Jesus asked his followers to ponder his return. Are we like the five wise bridesmaids who took flasks of oils for the lamps in preparation for the great wedding feast? Or are we like the five foolish bridesmaids who took no oil with them and consequently were refused entry?

Because we live at such a frenetic pace today, we seldom take the time to reflect on one of God's wonderful promises to us as his sons and daughters, Jesus, return in glory at the end of time. If we ponder Christ's return at all, we tend to focus our thoughts on the timing and characteristic of his return, and not on the new life that awaits his faithful people.

Scripture encourages us not to be worried or concerned about the end of time. If we stand in our beliefs that we have been baptized into Jesus' death and resurrection, we can be full of hope. We can comfort one another with the truth that God wants to raise us all with Christ so that we will always be with the Lord. Our belief is not in something sterile, like a set of doctrines, but in the person of Jesus, God's beloved Son. He is the personification of the biblical view of wisdom: radiant and unfading, easily discerning by those who love her, found by those who seek her. If we fix our thoughts in Jesus, he will free us from our worries and concerns and be present to us daily in our works and thoughts.

When we receive Jesus in the Eucharist, we can ask God to give us great expectation and a vibrant hope in his return. As we proclaim Jesus' death until his return in glory, we can ask the Holy Spirit to fill us with his presence, with the oil of gladness, as we eagerly await his resurrection, the wedding feast of Jesus and his Church. Before the altar, we can join the psalmist in singing: Oh God, you are my God, I seek you, my soul thirsts for you. Because your steadfast love is better than life, my lips will praise you. So, I will you as long as I live; I will lift up my hands and call on your name.

Trigesimo Segundo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Con estas palabras de la parábola de las diez damas de honor, Jesús pidió a sus seguidores que reflexionaran sobre su regreso. ¿Somos como las cinco damas de honor sabias que tomaron copos de aceite para las lámparas en preparación para la gran fiesta de bodas? ¿O somos como las cinco damas de honor insensatas que no se llevaron aceite y, en consecuencia, se les negó la entrada?

Debido a que vivimos a un ritmo tan frenético hoy, rara vez nos tomamos el tiempo para reflexionar sobre una de las maravillosas promesas que Dios nos ha hecho, ya que sus hijos e hijas, Jesús, regresan en gloria al final de los tiempos. Si meditamos sobre el regreso de Cristo, tendemos a enfocar nuestros pensamientos en el momento y las características de su regreso, y no en la nueva vida que le espera a su pueblo fiel.

La Escritura nos anima a no preocuparnos ni preocuparnos por el fin de los tiempos. Si mantenemos nuestra creencia de que hemos sido bautizados en la muerte y resurrección de Jesús, podemos estar llenos de esperanza. Podemos consolarnos unos a otros con la verdad de que Dios quiere resucitarnos a todos con Cristo para que siempre estemos con el Señor. Nuestra fe no está en algo estéril, como un conjunto de doctrinas, sino en la persona de Jesús, el Hijo amado de Dios. Él es la personificación de la visión bíblica de la sabiduría: radiante e inmarcesible, fácilmente discernible para quienes la aman, encontrada por quienes la buscan. Si fijamos nuestros pensamientos en Jesús, él nos liberará de nuestras preocupaciones y preocupaciones y estará presente a diario en nuestras obras y pensamientos.

Cuando recibimos a Jesús en la Eucaristía, podemos pedirle a Dios que nos dé una gran expectativa y una esperanza vibrante en su regreso. Mientras proclamamos la muerte de Jesús hasta su regreso en gloria, podemos pedirle al Espíritu Santo que nos llene con su presencia, con el aceite de la alegría, mientras esperamos ansiosamente su resurrección, la fiesta de bodas de Jesús y su Iglesia. Ante el altar, podemos unirnos al salmista en el canto: Oh Dios, tú eres mi Dios, te busco, mi alma tiene sed de ti. Porque tu misericordia es mejor que la vida, mis labios te alabarán. Así que te lo haré mientras viva; Levantaré mis manos e invocaré tu nombre.

Veterans Day November 11, 2020

“Almighty God, You know every veteran by name. You know their deeds, their hard work, and their perseverance. You know their needs, both material and spiritual. Please draw each one closer to you and grant them all the peace that passes understanding (Philippians 4:7), the peace of Christ to rule in their hearts (Colossians 3:15), and ‘joy in your presence, with eternal pleasures at your right hand’ forevermore (Psalm 16:11).”
 Amen

A Prayer in Time of Debt

ALMIGHTY, everlasting God, we beg of You to help us soon to pay off our debts to our fellowmen. Give us strength and courage to persevere until the last penny is paid. Give patience to those to whom we are in debt, and let them not treat us unjustly. Help us have great confidence in You and in the workings of Your providence, trusting that You will always direct things to our greatest good.

Make us also fully realize that no debt to our fellowmen can begin to equal the debt that we owe You on account of our sins, to say nothing of the immense debt we owe You for the gifts of Your divine grace. These we could never pay at all but for the coming of Your Son, our Lord, Jesus Christ. To Him be all honor and thanksgiving, now and forever. Amen.
