THANK YOU

Recently the Knights of Columbus sponsored a collection to help the A Better Women's Center purchase a new ultra sound machine. The center serves the needs of hundreds of women a year, many who seriously consider aborting their pregnancies. The caring staff at the center has helped about 80% of the women carry their pregnancy to term and the use of the ultra sound machine helped by demonstrating the beating heart of the unborn child.

On behalf of the staff at the center and the Knights, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to everyone who helped make this purchase possible. We cannot thank you enough for your generous donations, as well as all of your prayers and support.

You helped make our goal possible. In this way, you, too, have helped to save the lives of unborn babies. God Bless you and thank you again for your generosity and support!

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE 2015

My dear sisters and brothers in Christ,

The Nativity of Jesus Christ opens wide the Door of Mercy for everyone. On the Solemnity of Our Blessed Mother's Immaculate Conception, our Holy Father Pope Francis unsealed the Door of Mercy at the Basilica of Saint Peter at the Vatican. By this symbolic act, the Church initiated the Jubilee Year of Mercy and welcomes us to enter through the Door of Mercy, in order to obtain God's mercy and forgiveness.

In union with Bishops celebrating that same rite in every Cathedral throughout the world, the Holy Father not only unsealed the Holy Door of Mercy at Saint Peter's but also later at the major Basilicas in Rome. The opening of the Holy Door is an invitation by the Church to enter through it and so to change our lives by turning away from evil and sin and seeking the Father's merciful love.

With the richness of Pope Francis' instruction to us, the Opening of the Holy Door of Mercy is far more than symbolic. For our passage through the Holy Door turns our attention to works of mercy, works which define us as Jesus' disciples, disciples of mercy. "Jesus introduces us to these works of mercy in His preaching so that we can know whether or not we are living as His disciples. "(Misericordiae Vultus, No 15) Corporal Works of Mercy: Feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, welcome the stranger, heal the sick, visit the imprisoned, and bury the dead. Spiritual Works of Mercy: Counsel the doubtful, instruct the ignorant, admonish sinners, comfort the afflicted, forgive offenses, bear patiently those who do us ill, and pray for the living and the dead." (Misericordiae Vultus, No 15)

The Savior's Birth in Bethlehem took place in the most humble of surroundings; now, formed by the corporal and spiritual works of mercy, His Nativity must take place in our hearts and in our deeds.

As on that first Christmas, like the Blessed Virgin Mary and Saint Joseph, we wrap the newborn Savior in the swaddling clothes of our works of mercy. Like the shepherds, we give praise to God for calling each of us to adore His Son by pledging to live as He taught us. With the generosity of the Magi, we share our treasure with the poor and, with unflinching charity, we show our love and respect for the needy.

The Birth of Jesus renews in us a desire to serve others and by our witness to Christ to proclaim God's mercy by which we are saved. As we stand before the Crèche depicting Jesus' Birth in Bethlehem, we see the image of the newborn Savior, the embodiment of God's love, and we offer the Father our very selves so that His love can take flesh in us. Changed by the birth of His Son, we must "let go of anger, wrath, violence, and revenge . . ." (Misericordiae Vultus, No 9). Embracing the newborn Savior we give thanks to the Father and we are given the opportunity to be merciful like the Father.

The first steps we take in transforming our hearts are inspired by Jesus' Nativity. Through the eyes of the shepherds we see Jesus and the love of a family who for all ages is a model of family life. In their visit to Jesus, Mary, and Joseph, they beheld God's only Son and they were the first to announce the news of His birth. His birth changed them and, today, it changes us and our world and all those who welcome Jesus into their hearts, homes, and lives.

Celebrated in the Jubilee Year of Mercy, may this Christmas renew us in the Father's merciful love and fill us with the abundance of God's grace. Both in word and in our deeds, may the best gifts we give to one another at Christmas be the gifts of love, of mercy, and of peace.

Merry Christmas!

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Bishop of Norwich

Defending Our Religious Liberty Dec. 20, 2015 The Catholic Church is asking that the U.S. Supreme Court safeguard the rights afforded to us in the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, so that we will have the freedom to serve the needy without violating our moral principles and without being penalized with fines.

If you haven't done so already, please voice your opposition to the federal health care mandate by calling U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services Sylvia Mathews Burwell at 202-205-5445, and your elected representatives. Let them know that the mandate is in violation of our First Amendment right to religious freedom.
