Looking for Brave Souls

Our 29th Annual Family Festival will be starting soon and we are looking for volunteers to help with staffing the games as well as the ride ticket booths. Shifts are only 4 hours each. Perhaps sign up with a friend and work a game together!

Orange volunteer sheets are at all of the church entrances - please pick one up, fill it out and return the forms in the trays at the church doors.

We need YOU to make this festival a fun, friendly and financial success for our parish!

You have to be in it to WIN it!

The amount collected for our Super 50-50 raffle is climbing steadily - we are trying to get to $22,000 and we need YOUR help!!

If you have returned your tickets, we thank you very much for pushing the total up. If you have not as yet returned your tickets, please do so in order that we may reach our goal!

Returns for the super 50/50 can be made by mail, in person to the Parish Center, or you may drop them in the collection baskets on the weekend. If you need more tickets, please call the Parish Center, 973-694-4585 extension 7208, or ask one of the priests after mass.

First prize is 80% of the winning share and we have 5 smaller prizes, each worth 4% of the winning share. In past years, the winning share has been around $10,000.

Have a Business - Want to Advertise?

We are still accepting sponsorship forms for anyone who wishes to advertise at our Family Festival as a Silver, Gold or Platinum sponsor.

Over 20,000 people come to the festival through out the course of the week - it's a great opportunity to promote your business AND help your parish community.

Please call the Parish Center 973-694-4585 extension 7208 for more information and sponsor forms.

First Holy Communion

Our children are receiving Holy Communion for the first time at Mass next weekend, May 13—14.

We ask your support, prayers, and encouragement for the children and your understanding that the first several pews on each side will be reserved for the children and their families.

As always, the first pew on each side of the church will still be reserved for those who are elderly, or with physical limitations.

Here to Help

There has been a significant increase in overdoses on opioids – a class of drugs that includes heroin, synthetic drugs such as fentanyl, and prescription pain killers such as OxyContin and Vicodin.

Heroin deaths are up 23% to 12,989 nationwide. Prescription opioid deaths rose by 4% to 17,536. According to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 91 people in the United States die every day from drug overdoses.

Do you know anyone, in particular teens, who need help? Our governor wants you, or someone you know to get help.

Spiritual Reflection

Sheepish?

The Gospel this Sunday is about shepherds and their charges. What are some facts about these woolly creatures we call sheep?

Start with a comparison. Remember your childhood when you turned various insects on their back? Childishly, you might have watched them struggle and never achieve their proper leg-side down position unless we had mercy on them. An unshorn sheep is the same way, shepherds tell us: completely stranded if it gets turned on its back. In order to turn it right-side up when it needs it, the shepherd carries a crook. He hooks the sheep and turns it right. He is kind and careful with his flock. They are not smart. But they follow him.

History tells us that the many shepherds brought their small herds to Jerusalem, and that these various flocks were kept together in one big sheepfold. There were no brands, no markings of any kind, just a fuzzy mob. How, you might ask, does each shepherd retrieve the sheep that belong to him (or to his boss)?

The first way is by calling each of his sheep by name. He has been with them on the hillsides to the point that they are no longer strangers to him. The one with the nick in its ear, the one with the pretty face, the one that limps. He has a name for each because they each have a personality that is special, just like you and I do. When they hear their names they come and follow.

Second, the sheep recognizes not only its name but the actual voice of the shepherd. This is a much loved sound to it. It belongs to the one who flipped them back on their feet, the one who shielded them from wolves, the one who led them to fresh pastures instead of ones they had eaten down to nubs. A stranger's voice did not have the gentle consonance of their master and friend. His sheep flocked to him.

Why does Jesus use such imagery on the Fourth Sunday of Easter? I suppose you know the answer already, but, if you will pardon the comparison, you and I are very similar to sheep. The shepherd calls them by name and the magnificent God of the universe calls each of us by name. Through Jesus, God knows each and every one of us better than we know ourselves. The name he confirms for each of us finds its way down to the deepest interior of our souls. Through it he calls us to be most truly who we are, in our own self and in God.

We may misunderstand the voice of God the shepherd, ignore it, resist it, button our ears tight against it, but in our moments of sane and solitary wholeness—or maybe in our times of trouble—our spirits pulse to the rhythm of that voice. It resounds within us.

Like the shepherd with his sheep, this call is safe, in spite of wolves and wildness all around. Christ's call lets our fear drop away, turns us right side up, lets us follow our master and friend around rocks and even through dark valleys.

Sometimes the phrase, “people are sheep,” is deemed an insult. This Sunday it is the greatest compliment we could get.

John Foley, SJ
