The Faith and Light program is a gathering of our church communities around those individuals and families who represent the intellectual and developmental disability community. This gathering is open for all to attend. The first date for Faith and Light is Sunday, October 16 and will be held in the St. Peter Parish center. Lunch will be provided through the K of C Pancake breakfast at 12:30 p.m. The Faith and Light program will begin around 1:15 pm. Faith and Light will gather on the 3rd Sunday of each month through May 2017. For more information, contact Chris Hiles at 740-774-1407 or yec@stpeterchillicothe.com

From the Pastor's Desk...

We are in the process of purchasing beautiful new hymnals for the parish. The Church recommends having a fixed hymnal in order to keep a collection of songs that become familiar to a community over time. It also ensures that the best of sacred music gets retained rather than publishers driving sacred music by trying to introduce numbers of new songs each year and thus striving for quantity rather than quality. The new hymnal we are purchasing is the St. Michael Hymnal, which is published out of Lafayette, Indiana.

The hymnal has a good selection of traditional hymns as well as selected contemporary hymns that have proven themselves and maintain a focus on God (rather than singing about ourselves). The hymnal also retains the original language of hymns instead of contorting the lyrics as sometimes happens to avoid saying "He" or "Him" or such in reference to God. If you would like to read about the new hymnal and see the list of songs that are in it, you can go to www.stmichaelhymnal.com. There won't be too dramatic of a change for many of the current songs we sing are contained in the hymnal.

The hymnal does not have the lectionary in it (the readings for the Masses). Therefore, there will be a yearly "missalette" in the pews with the readings for the Mass. There will be an initial investment to buy the hymnals but over time we will recover that investment through the savings of not having to buy the paperback hymnals. To help defray the cost to the parish we are offering parishioners the opportunity to sponsor hymnals in memorial of someone. For a donation of $30 (slightly higher than cost, which will help us cover the costs for the missalettes) you would be sponsoring the purchase of a hymnal. In the back of the hymnals will be "In memoriam" labels with the name of someone whose name was sponsored. To help the parish in this way and to honor a loved one, simply write "Hymnal" on an envelope and then enclose your donation and the name of the loved one(s). There will also soon be "Hymnal Donation" envelopes that you can pick up in the back of the church.

The new hymnals will be here in time for the beginning of the new liturgical season which begins with the First Sunday of Advent.

In Christ,

Fr. Hahn

Women of St. Colman will meet this Monday at 2pm in the Conference Room. All are welcome!

Senior Lunch, October 12th at Noon. Sign up in the back of church please.

CONCERTS IN A COUNTRY CHURCH
SEASON FOUR
2016 – 2017

St. Colman Catholic Church
Washington Court House, Ohio

Programs for the Series

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2016, 3:00 PM - "BRASS-TACULAR!"

Brass Quintet and Organ

At the Hymn Festival Concert in February 2106, we were privileged to be accompanied by The Brass Ensemble from Cedarville University. These five young players proved to be particularly talented and adept and, as a result, we were treated to some of the finest brass playing ever heard in the area! We were so impressed that we immediately asked them to come back this fall, knowing that several were seniors and that this would probably be the last chance we would get to work with them again. We are indeed fortunate that they accepted the invitation.

For this program, they will be performing a number of works originally written for brass as well as some composer-written transcriptions. Craig Jaynes, Director of Music at St. Colman and director of the concert series, will perform two major solo organ works and they will join together for some sonic explosions which will include a couple of old favorites. If you like spectacular music and sounds that can move the floor as well as the soul, don't miss this!

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2017, 3:00 PM - "Urbane and Urbiel"

Christopher Urbiel, organist

Newark, Ohio may not be considered an 'ultra-urban' area, but it's musical life has been enhanced and become more urbane since the arrival of Dr. Christopher Urbiel as the Organist and Director of Music at St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church three years ago, where he is developing a model musical program, both liturgically and musically. Christopher hails from Michigan where he had served Roman Catholic and Anglican parishes for nearly two decades. He received his Bachelor of Music degree from Central Michigan University where he studied organ with Steven Engler and his Masters and Doctoral degrees from the University of Michigan where he studied organ with Marilyn Mason (the 'dean' of American university organ professors) and Michelle Johns. He also pursued liturgical research with James Borders. In addition to his musical duties at St. Francis, he is also Director of Cemeteries (he has ten seasons of previous experience at St. Hedwig Cemetery in Dearborn Heights, MI – a ministry of the Conventual Franciscans). He also serves the OSU James Cancer Center's Care for Life program as director of the Victory Choir for cancer survivors.

His planned program is an eclectic one, with works spanning nearly four hundred years of organ music.

SUNDAY, APRIL 30, 2017, 3:00 PM -

The Symphonic Choir, Hillsboro High School, David White, conductor

Mr. White has begun his fifteenth year as Director of Vocal Music at Hillsboro High School, where he has consistently produced a program of unsurpassed high quality. The choirs under his direction routinely produce superior ratings from adjudicated district and state level events. They also participate annually in at least one major choral work with orchestra, their alumni and the Hillsboro Community Chorus, the list of which would produce drools of envy from programs many times their size. They have been invited to this series not only as a recognition of their outstanding efforts over the years and their subsequent contribution to the musical life of southern Ohio but also because they present programs that will leave you with your mouth open in disbelief at the incredibly high level of quality singing produced. They will be coming to the series on the heels of participation at an internationally-renowned event at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, New Jersey. Their program will include hymns with audience participation.

Mr. White is a graduate of Northern Kentucky University, a candidate for the Master of Arts in Church Music at Trinity Lutheran Seminary in Columbus (2017) and also serves as Director of Music and Organist at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Crestview Hills, KY.

A SEASON TICKET FOR ALL THREE CONCERTS IS $25.00 AND MAY BE PURCHASED AT THE FIRST CONCERT OR BY MAILING A CHECK (Made to St. Colman Concerts) TO:

Concerts, St. Colman Church

219 S. North St, Washington CH, OH 43160

Season Ticket holders are allocated seating in a reserved section. All others are open seating.

TICKETS FOR INDIVIDUAL PROGRAMS MAY BE PURCHASED AT THE DOOR PRIOR TO EACH CONCERT FOR $10.00 EACH.. SEATING AT ALL CONCERTS IS LIMITED, SO SEASON TICKET PURCHASE IS RECOMMENDED.

SERENE ATTENTIVENESS TO GOD'S CREATION

When we fall in love, become parents, or enter into any significant relationship, it is not uncommon to experience a shift in worldview that shapes our actions.

Consider parents holding their first newborn son or daughter. While there is no instruction manual for all the possible circumstances they may encounter, their guiding framework is the loving, parental relationship with their child. With his encyclical Laudato si', Pope Francis invites us to understand more deeply our relationships with God, one another, and the rest of creation, and to live accordingly. "Everything is connected," he reminds us (LS 91).

God uses creation to bring us into loving relationship with himself, most notably through the sacraments. We experience this most powerfully in the Eucharist, the true body and blood of Christ, received under the appearance of bread and wine, where "all that has been created finds its greatest exaltation" (LS 236). God invites us to embrace creation on this deeper level through our worship of himself (LS 235). Our relationship with Christ—strengthened by receiving him worthily in Holy Communion—helps us understand our relationships with one another and with creation.

Pope Francis warns against placing ourselves "at the center," thinking we don't need God and lacking concern for other creatures (LS 122, 68-69). But he also rejects the view that "the presence of human beings on the planet should be reduced and all forms of intervention prohibited" (LS, 60). The Holy Father affirms, instead, that human beings possess "a particular dignity above other creatures" and share a distinct responsibility for the world entrusted to us (LS 119, 242). When any of our relationships are out of balance—with God, one another, or the rest of creation—all our relationships suffer.

We see evidence of this imbalance on a large scale today. Building upon the teaching of his predecessors, the Holy Father discusses in great detail the disrepair apparent in creation. Our distorted relationship with God has infected our relationship with the earth, evidenced by pollution, lack of clean water, toxic waste, and immense material waste. For example, "approximately a third of all food produced is discarded, and 'whenever food is thrown out it is as if it were stolen from the table of the poor'" (LS 50).

What the Holy Father often calls a "culture of waste" or a "throwaway culture" even goes so far as to see and treat human life as disposable. The elderly are marginalized, and the lives of persons with disabilities are deemed less worth living (LS 123). The fundamental truth that "the inalienable worth of a human being transcends his or her degree of development" is forgotten—leading to the destruction of unwanted babies in the womb and experimentation on embryonic children in the lab (LS 136, 123).

“When any of our relationships are out of balance—with God, one another, or the rest of creation—all our relationships suffer.”

Sometimes, even efforts to alleviate the suffering of certain populations lead to offenses against human life. Pope Francis warns, for example, against international pressure which makes the promotion of contraception, abortion, and other harmful practices a condition for economic aid.

At times, efforts seeking to protect the environment and other creatures disregard or even attack the particular dignity of human beings. Although we are called to care for creation, the Holy Father makes clear that this approach is not only inconsistent, it "compromises the very meaning of our struggle for the sake of the environment" (LS 91). Quoting Pope Benedict XVI's encyclical Charity in Truth, Pope Francis explains further:

Since everything is interrelated, concern for the protection of nature is also incompatible with the justification of abortion. How can we genuinely teach the importance of concern for other vulnerable beings, however troublesome or inconvenient they may be, if we fail to protect a human embryo, even when its presence is uncomfortable and creates difficulties? "If personal and social sensitivity towards the acceptance of new life is lost, then other forms of acceptance that are valuable for society also wither away" (LS 120).

Pope Francis isn't endorsing a secular environmentalism—he has a broader idea in mind—one that echoes the sentiments of another predecessor, Pope St. John Paul II. In his 1990 World Day of Peace message, the great saint reminded us that "no peaceful society can afford to neglect either respect for life or the fact that there is an integrity to creation" (emphasis original, 7). He later addressed Catholics directly, reminding us of our "serious obligation to care for all of creation" (16).

If we are filled with the love of God, a culture of encounter and solidarity will begin to bloom. Pope Francis stresses, "We are speaking of an attitude of the heart, one which approaches life with serene attentiveness, which is capable of being fully present to someone without thinking of what comes next" (LS 226). With this attitude of heart, we neither treat other humans as disposable, nor neglect to care for God's creation at any level. Through a conversion of heart, repairing our relationships with God, one another, and all of creation, we can combat the many pollutants that poison our hearts and our world.
