From the "Other" Parochial Vicar's Desk...

Fr. Hahn and Fr. Hartge have asked me to write this public service announcement for you:

Attention!

Attention please!

We need your help! We still need parishioners to sign up for the photo directory on August 17, 18, and 19. The photographer is requiring that we have 25 appointments each day. You are not obligated to buy photos after your picture is taken. In fact, this is free if you are just having your picture taken. To be honest, the photo directories help us priests to put faces with names. In addition, we give these photo directories to new parishioners as well. Please consider helping us! If we do not have the interest, then the photo directory will not happen for our parish.

In other news, you will be seeing me here at St. Colman's a little bit more for some weekday masses. While I'm still the administrator in Zaleski, a retired priest is now in residence doing pastoral work for the parish. I look forward to seeing you around on the weekdays from time to time!

Now to some serious business, this weekend, we take a break from our regular Ordinary Time Sundays and celebrate the Transfiguration of the Lord. We hear the powerful account of the 'old guard' (the prophets) meeting the up and coming 'new guard.' The disciples see Jesus conversing with Moses and Elijah or the 'old guard.' In their own time and varied ways, they found God among the chosen people and the soon to be nation of Israel. The works of Moses and Elijah have led up to this moment- God glorifying His only Son.

The Transfiguration teaches us to always keep our eyes on our true dwelling place- heaven. God always transforms the former ways to newness life. The prophets prepared the way for Jesus. Will we do the same?

Enjoy these last few weeks of summer!
Fr. Dooley
