Oktoberfest was a success thanks to the many hands that volunteered and to our sponsors who help defray the costs. Once all of the money is received from some outstanding sponsor pledges, the event once again broke even which is the goal. Congratulations to Suzie Janasov for winning the 50/50 raffle! The raffle totaled $6700. Suzie received $3350. The other half benefits St. Colman charities and the March for Life.

Thank you to all of you who volunteered to work the event and those of you who attended! Mark your calendars, next year's Oktoberfest is tentatively scheduled for October 17.

National Vocation Awareness Week

This week is National Vocation Awareness Week. God is calling many young men and women to serve him as priests and religious in our time, but we need to help them to hear the call.

How can we help? By praying for those who have a call. Pray that they might have the wisdom to hear the call and the courage to follow it no matter what the obstacles. Join the Parish in a special Holy Hour for vocations this Tuesday evening from 6-8pm. Even if you aren't signed up for a regular hour, you might pop in for a bit and offer some prayer time for vocations.

Also, from time to time the diocese and various religious orders have special events to help young people discern their vocation. You might think of encouraging young people whom you think may have a calling to go to these events.

Together let's pray for an increase in vocations to the priesthood and religious life, especially from within our own parish and diocese.

Holy Land Pilgrimage

This Wednesday I, and a group of 58 other pilgrims made up of parishioners of the consortium and some family members and friends, travel to Israel to go on pilgrimage. We will be walking and praying in the places that Our Lord once walked and prayed. Please keep us in your prayers and know that you will certainly be carried in our prayers at these holy sites.

In Christ,
Fr. Hahn

2019 NATIONAL VOCATION AWARENESS WEEK Nov 3-9, 2019

The growing clergy shortage means that priestly presence is waning in many Catholic institutions, especially high schools and colleges. Even Vocation Directors, whose job is to help young people discern God’s call, often find themselves with one or two (or more!) additional assignments. More than ever, the Church needs lay people, especially families, to encourage the next generation of vocations.

INSPIRATION FOR PARENTS

Families: the Foundation for Vocations

An old Latin schoolmaster had the habit of entering the classroom and bowing to his pupils before the lesson. One day a boy asked why he showed such reverence to the young students. “Because I do not know who you may be one day,” answered the old teacher. “Some of you may grow up to be presidents or generals, perhaps even popes or saints. I do not bow to who you are today, but to who you may become.”

Who might your child or grandchild become? A leader who solves a political crisis? A researcher who discovers a life-saving cure? What about a priest who heals souls? Or a brother who serves the forgotten?

Your attitude toward your child’s vocation has a huge impact. Many priests and sisters say: “Growing up our family prayed together... We served others as a family... My parents often had clergy and religious over for dinner.”

The influence of parents may actually be getting stronger. Oprah Magazine ran an article on new research showing that millennials feel closely connected with their parents, with 77% seeking their parents’ advice on a regular basis.

If your son or daughter should express interest in becoming a priest, sister, or brother, they’ll be watching closely for your reaction. It may be awkward to bow, but in your own way, express reverence for what they may become.

Pope John Paul II speaks of ‘vocation’ more than 30 times in his famous encyclical on the family, Familiaris Consortio, calling family “the primary and most excellent seed-bed of vocations.”

‘Our Hearts Are Full’

The family of Tom and Katie Krug beam with pride at the ordination of oldest son, Fr. Jerome Krug, in Oklahoma City. “I would be proud of him whatever he did,” said Tom. “But knowing he chose a higher calling, there are no words to express our joy... though I hear God telling me, “This happiness isn’t one tenth of the happiness of heaven!” Tom encourages reluctant parents: “If your son is thinking about seminary, tell him to go! It’s an ideal place to form strong young men.”

‘I get to be the priest this time!’

Did you know that according to canon law, impersonating a priest disqualifies a man from ever being ordained?

But not if you’re a little kid, of course. Moms and dads who have videos of toddlers elevating Ritz crackers as “hosts” can rest easy. (Have you seen the YouTube video of the four-year-old having a tantrum because his brother assigned him to be the deacon at a makeshift “Mass” in their living room? “But I can’t even reeeead!” he wailed.)

Children have pretended to celebrate Mass for literally centuries, and why not? It’s a way of emulating one’s heroes. Think of the third-grader in a Tom Brady jersey throwing a football, or the son of a police officer driving a toy cruiser.

Kids playing Mass at home has an added benefit: they often pay more attention at church! A variety of children’s Mass kits are available at sites like www.agnusdei.us.

Play has a deeper meaning, of course. It’s a way of preparing for the real world. And because our world needs God’s mercy so much, why not nudge your kids (or grandkids) to get out the crackers and grape juice?

Aim High

Sr. Divine Grace of the Servidores practices archery at a vocations-themed summer camp in Louisiana. As a young sister in a Washington DC-based convent, she helped nationwide with various youth events before returning to formation in the fall.

“I would like to speak into the ears of so many men and women: giving up one’s children to the service of God is not a sacrifice: it is an honor and a joy.” -St. Josemaria Escriva

Serving those who serve

Dear Friend in Christ,

The next National Collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA (AMS), is scheduled for the weekend of 10 November 2019 (unless an alternate date has been selected by a particular diocese). The AMS receives no funding from the U.S. Government or the U.S. Military, has no parishes for a weekly in-pew collection, and must rely principally on private donations to fund an annual operating budget of over $8.2 million.

Established by Saint John Paul II in 1985, the AMS is responsible for providing the full range of pastoral ministries available in all other U.S. dioceses to those serving in the United States Armed Services, enrolled in U.S. Military Academies, undergoing treatment at any of the 153 Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Centers, working in civilian jobs for the federal government beyond U.S. borders, and for the families of these populations. In other words, the AMS is responsible for the pastoral care of men, women, and children from all U.S. dioceses, who hail from all 50 States and U.S. Territories - including members of your own parish.

I am grateful to the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops for its approval of the National Collection taken in most dioceses every three years, the first in November 2013, and again in 2016. Funds received from the 2013 and 2016 National Collections provided the means necessary for this Archdiocese to continue to provide the same pastoral care readily available to the almost 1.8 million AMS faithful spread across the globe who serve and who face constant transition and uncertainty. The funds also made possible several new and important initiatives, including the first-ever Catholic military marriage enrichment retreat and widespread certification of catechists at their installations; to begin to build an endowment with a long-term goal of assuring a self-sustaining source of funding; and to continue to underwrite the Co-Sponsored Seminarian Program which provides priests to serve in dioceses across the U.S., and to serve as full-time Catholic military chaplains.

Please help me continue to provide priests for the Church and the military chaplaincy and to minister to the Catholic military men and women, and their families, who are part of this global Archdiocese - parishioners and families from your diocese - with a donation to the 2019 Triennial National Collection for the AMS.

With sentiments of unwavering gratitude, I remain

Sincerely in Christ,

(The Most Reverend) Timothy P. Broglio, J.C.D.
Archbishop for the Military Services, USA
