What Gets Changed?

At a parish in Cleveland, some Catholics were interviewed about going to Mass. One of the questions was: “At Mass, when we pray and sing, when the priest stands at the altar and we pray over the bread and wine, when we come to holy communion, what gets changed?”

One middle-aged man named Sam answered quick as a wink and spoke straight from his heart: “What gets changed? Sam! Sam gets changed.”

Now that man, whether he realized it or not, knew the church’s theology deep down in his being. He had experience - not just book learning - of the church’s theology of the eucharist.

At our baptism, we put on Christ. We died, we renounced, we turned our backs on whole ways of life. If we were baptized as infants, then our parents meant us to enter on such a Catholic life. At baptism, whether as an infant or an adults, the people already baptized took us into a home. And in that home we do the things that Catholics do, we try to live with others the way the gospels and our saints show us. We try to be one of those to whom the Lord will say: “I was hungry and you fed me, thirsty and you gave me a drink, in prison and you visited me.”

Baptism got us into this house, this Catholic house. Sunday eucharist trains us in the life and language and loving deeds of Catholics. It gets us around that table where from the first generation of Christians we’ve been gathered to give God thanks over bread and wine. Doing that again and again changed Sam. Little by little, it changes us all. The most sacred mystery of the eucharist is that this bread and wine become for us the body and blood of Christ. The most sacred mystery of the eucharist is that we, slackers and sinners all, become the body and blood of Christ. So what gets changed? Sam gets changed.
