For Life!

This week marks yet another year in which we mark the horrific day when abortion was made legal in our country. Since that misguided decision was handed down by the Supreme Court, 60 million children have been removed from their rightful place in society by abortion. Lives were given no voice, nor the opportunity to live their American dream. They didn't have the opportunity to worship or make their sacraments, nor learn about the greatness of God. They were denied the chance because of selfish reasoning disguised by the call of personal choice.

The supporters of this license to kill don't tell you that those who have an abortion suffer for many years their loss of a child. They live with regret. They also don't tell people of the possible physical consequences. Simply, the abortion providers, and pro-death organizations don't tell you that there is a financial benefit in their industry. They are making money by destroying life. Does anyone think that Planned Parenthood, who makes millions in government aid is really out for their interest or to follow the will of God?

As thousands of people descend on Washington tomorrow for the March for Life, we need to enter into prayer to end this scourge on society. We need to unite as one voice for life.

Among the thousands in attendance at the March for Life will be a majority of young people. Nearly 70% of the participants are college age or younger. They are a great witness to life and the call to change. They realize that it's their generation that has been the victims of this legalized holocaust. We need to embrace their desire, will, and hopes to be a generation for life. We need to give them the opportunity to be a generation for change.

The theme of change is in the air this year in which we go to the polls to elect a President and Congress. We, as faithful citizens, must take a serious look at those running for office. We must ask ourselves, Has this person been a supporter of Life? For the most part our government of late has done more against life than for it. Abortions are once again taking place at military bases, and radical policies have been promulgated to further fund pro abortion organizations under the disguise of health care.

We as Catholics, people of faith, and those who have been given the chance to have life, must speak up and make our voices heard for the voiceless. We must practice chaste living, and follow the norms that are outlined in the Vatican document, Dignity of the Person, that calls on Catholics to respect that life is present in the embryo and any scientific engineering, or biological manipulation is wrong. This includes in-vitro fertilization, human cloning, embryonic stem cell use, or the destruction of the embryo. Additionally, the Dignity of the Person means that we must respect life at the very end for the sick and aged.

My brothers and sisters in Christ, our fight is difficult but we cannot let the devil win, for he lurks in this culture for death. May we be Pro-Life today and always, and pray that our country soon becomes a country for life.

More Important Messages and Reminders

Special THANK YOU to Eva and Ted

We want to thank Eva and Ted for over ten years providing music and leading our choirs. We appreciate all they've done to help lift our minds and hearts during our worship services. May God continue to bless them and their family and we look forward to their continued presence among us and participation in our parish life.

Thank you from Our Music Ministers

To the Queen of Peace Community,
It is with heavy hearts that we bid farewell to this wonderful community in our capacity as Music Coordinators. It has been a joy to join in song with you in various capacities over the past 20+ years. We thank the many adults and children who have been part of the choirs over the years for their time, talent and friendship; and we thank you, the parishioners, for allowing us the honor and privilege to raise our voices in praise to our Lord with all of you.

Peace,
Ted & Eva Hajek

Palms to Ashes

Do you still have your old blessed palms from last Palm Sunday? We'd like to collect them and burn them to make ashes to use for Ash Wednesday. Please bring to the church and deposit in the boxes marked for that purpose at the exits of the church.

ATTENTION Eucharistic Ministers!

Please note that the sign-in sheet for Eucharistic Ministers is in the sacristy on the vesting table, so the celebrant has easy access to it as he prepares the vessels for Mass. Remember that Father will prepare cups of wine depending on the number of Eucharistic Ministers who sign-in so there is not an excess of Precious Blood needing to be consumed by the celebrant after communion.

Thank you!

The New Roman Missal

Now that we've been using the new words in our celebration of the Mass, it might be good to be reminded of why some things were changed. Here is one frequently asked question and the response from the USCCB (United States Conference of Catholic Bishops).

Q: In the Nicene Creed, why has "one in being with the Father" been changed to "consubstantial with the Father?"

A: The new translation is more in keeping with the ancient Latin text of the Creed and a more accurate translation.

The bishops at the Council of Nicea (AD 325), in order to ensure that Jesus was professed as the eternal Son of God, equal to the Father, stated that he is "the Son of God, begotten from the Father, the only-begotten, that is from the substance of the Father, God from God, light from light, true God from true God, begotten not made, the same substance (homoousion) with the Father..." The Creed of the Council of Constantinople (381), which is professed at all Sunday Masses and Solemnities within the Catholic Church, similarly stated: "We believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, of the same substance (homoousion) with the Father."

When these two ancient creeds were translated into Latin, the term "homoousion" was rendered as "consubstantialem," that is, "the same substance of the Father." Prior to the Second Vatican Council, the Latin "consubstantialem" was rendered as "consubstantial" within the English translation of the Creed. Many theologians and the Holy See thought that the term "consubstantial" was more in keeping with the Latin tradition and a more literal and accurate translation than the more recent "one in being."

This is in keeping with the mind of the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments, which published an Instruction, entitled Liturgiam Authenticam. It stated: "Certain expressions that belong to the heritage of the whole or of a great part of the ancient Church, as well as others that have become part of the general human patrimony, are to be respected by a translation that is as literal as possible" (no. 56).
