Message from Our Pastor

In today's gospel, Jesus uses a parable again to criticize the leaders of the Jews for their refusal to accept Jesus as God's truly sent Son. Jesus warns them that their own hypocrisy and wickedness will not go unpunished. We today also must be alert to hear and accept Christ's teaching and sacrifice.

EXEGESIS:

This parable by Jesus is usually seen as his judgment of the rejection of Him and his preaching by the leaders of the Jewish people. The vineyard is Israel itself. The vineyard owner (God) sends his servants (prophets) to collect the vineyard's produce (faith and good works) from the vineyard's tenants (Jewish leaders). But the tenants kill the servants one after another. Then the owner sends his own son, thinking that the tenants surely will respect the son; but the tenants kill him too. (Unlike in Mark's gospel, where the tenants first kill the son, then throw him outside the vineyard, in this Matthew reading the tenants first throw the son outside, then kill him. This change represents what is happening in the early Church when Matthew is writing his gospel a couple of decades after Mark. Matthew wants the son better to represent Jesus who first was taken outside the city walls of Jerusalem [outside the vineyard] and then killed.)

The tenants think they can acquire the son's inheritance, because Jewish law allowed tenants of property to inherit its income if no male heir remained. When Jesus asks the Jewish leaders, "What will the owner of the vineyard do?" they answer that the owner will kill the wicked tenants and will lease his vineyard to new tenants. In giving their answer, the leaders do not realize they are pre-judging themselves for killing THE Son (Jesus) on Calvary in the near future. Interestingly, Jesus does not conclude his parable by saying that the vineyard owner himself actually has the wicked tenants killed in revenge.

This parable is not meant to say that the Jews themselves as a people will have their inheritance (their original covenant with God) cancelled. The Church teaches that the covenant between God and the Jews is still valid and has yet to be fulfilled in some mysterious manner at the end of time.
