Dear friends, we begin Catholic Schools Week today. You may not have a child in Catholic School or even have a child of school age, but that does not mean that this week is not important to you, too. Catholic education is a key way we transmit our faith, beliefs and traditions onto the next generation, as well as teaching all the subjects that our young ones need to succeed and contribute to society. Coming together today to worship, let us recall those who have taught us—our parents, teachers, other family members, priests, sisters and brothers—and thank them for the worlds they have opened to us.

In today's first reading we heard God respond to the people's cries with a promise of a prophet who would fulfill their longings, the one whom we recognize as Jesus Christ. In his name, we now cry out to God with our needs.

- For the Church, that by what we say and what we do we may teach what we believe and witness how it changes our lives so that we may bear witness to the saving power of God, we pray to the Lord
- That those in authority may work toward bringing justice to all who are oppressed and peace to all who live in fear, we pray to the Lord
- For teachers, administrators, and staff in Catholic Schools, that they may see each of their students as a child of God, and be blessed in their efforts to form each one into a person who will live out the values of our shared faith, we pray to the Lord
- That our hearts may be made fertile so that when we hear God's word it may germinate and bear fruit, we pray to the Lord
- For those who suffer from mental illness or psychological afflictions, that they may receive the care they need, the healing they seek and the support of their communities, we pray to the Lord
- For our homebound and all who are not able to join us today, we pray to the Lord
- For the prayers we hold in the silence of our hearts, we pray to the Lord.

Generous God, throughout human history you have blessed us with your gifts. Listen to our prayers and grant our needs through your greatest gift of all, your Son and our Savior, Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Communion: My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the most Blessed Sacrament. I love You above all things and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot now receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there, and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.
