Dear Client:

We hope all of you are staying safe and healthy. The IRS has extended the April 15th filing and payment deadline to July 15th along with the 1st quarter estimated tax payment for 2020. Due to the extended deadline, you will not hear from us in April, but we will reach out in early July to discuss your extension if we have not received your information by then. However, we are still preparing returns and encourage you to continue to send us your information.

Congress has recently passed new legislation to provide tax credits for employers who pay sick leave or family leave due to the crisis. They are also currently working on other programs for employers who are affected by the crisis. Please call us if you would like more information about any of these.

The well-being and safety of our clients and employees is our top priority. In response to the local government guidelines related to COVID-19, we have temporarily suspended face to face conferences and will try to handle any questions by email or telephone. We will also be sending completed tax returns to you by mail or email for the immediate future unless you instruct us otherwise. Our office is open for receiving tax information, but feel free to mail it if you prefer. We are here to serve and assist you, so please call if you need anything.

Sincerely,

Thompson, Derrig & Craig, PC
