

Question of the Month

During the month of February, the Senior Group reflected on the following question: What have your life experiences taught you about God?

Be patient when things go bad – the light will shine again and God gives us what we need to endure the NOW. We must remember to think and thank God before we celebrate.

When I need God, if I just take a quiet moment, God speaks to me and I am not alone.

God is always with me through thick and thin.

That God is always there for me and that when He answers prayers, He answers them in his own way which may not be exactly what I was expecting as an answer.

God is always there waiting for us to call on Him.

My life experiences have enabled me to trust in God's plan and know that He always provides!

God has always been good to me. He led me to the only profession I could be good at, giving me fulfillment as well as knowing I have in some way justified my existence.

God has taught me to have faith and believe that everything that happens is for a reason and that his love for us is unending.

God is always with me, watching over me, keeping me safe. He listens to my prayers, but does not always answer the way I want. So I have learned to say, "thy will be done", answer my prayer in your way. We cannot control God.

That God is always there. In good times – when we are especially blessed and when we are in bad times – when we especially need God’s love, support, grace, healing and presence.

Believe and admire all God’s wonders.

When life became unbearable – prayers did not seem to help – I was lost! Al-Anon and the wise people (sent by God) helped me through my most difficult times. I learned – God was listening, so I listened too.

My life experiences from childhood through the present have taught me that as I let go of who I think I am and try to see myself more often as a child of a loving God, that my faith grows stronger, my prayer is more meaningful, and I value the support of this parish faith community more.
