Fourth Sunday of Easter, Year B, 4º Domingo de Pascua, el año B del Evangelio de San Marcos April/Abril 21/22, 2018

From The Deacon's Desk...

This Sunday proclaims the parable of the Good Shepherd. Jesus presents himself as the Good Shepherd, lovingly demonstrating that "a good shepherd lays down his life for his sheep" (Jn 10,11). He warned though, that some people propose themselves as shepherds when, in fact, their true motivation is something far less. They impersonate the shepherd's role, but instead of service, concern and protection of their flock, ultimately seek only personal interest and well being.

Este domingo proclama la parábola del Buen Pastor. Jesús se presenta como el Buen Pastor, demostrando amorosamente que "un buen pastor da su vida por sus ovejas" (Jn 10,11). Sin embargo, advirtió que algunas personas se proponen a sí mismas como pastores cuando, de hecho, su verdadera motivación es algo mucho menor. Ellos suplantán el papel del pastor, pero en lugar de servicio, preocupación y protección de su rebaño, en última instancia buscan solo interés personal y bienestar.

Mientras continuamos preparándonos para nuestra celebración del sesquicentenario aquí en Santa María, deseamos registrar, tanto para nosotros como para el futuro, la membresía real de la comunidad en este momento histórico de celebración. Le pedimos a cada familia de la parroquia que posen para una foto del directorio parroquial. La sesión no debería durar más de 15 minutos y ocurre en el salón de clase más al este del Salón Parroquial. Often, these false leaders have such a meek and deceptive manner, that great diligence is required to avoid their deception. Yet as Christians, we know there is only one Good Shepherd, the firstborn of the Father and our adopted brother.

The Pope at Mass: Christians called to be 'couriers of hope'

By Editor, Catholic News Service, April 20, 2018

ROME (CNS) Pope Francis has urged Christians to be “couriers of hope,” “genuine witnesses of Jesus in the world”.

The Pope’s exhortation to leave the Lord’s table after the Eucharist and to be active in bringing His message of peace and mercy into the world, came during the homily at Holy Mass in the southern Italian town of Molfetta. Pope Francis commented on the liturgical readings of the day which focus on two central elements for Christian life: Bread and the Word. Pointing out that bread is the essential food for living and Jesus in the Gospel offers himself to us as the Bread of Life, the Pope said the Eucharist is not just a beautiful rite, but a communion of love that calls on each Christian to be nourished by the Lord in order to then give him or herself to others. “Works of charity are not enough, if the charity of works is lacking, if the love in which the works are conceived is lacking, if the starting point which is the Eucharist is lacking, every pastoral commitment is only a merry-go-round” he said.

And remarking on the fact that living for others is the “trademark” of a Christian, the Pope said “One could post a warning outside every church: ‘After Mass one no longer lives for oneself, but for others’.

Reiterating that the “Eucharist cannot stand sedentariness” Francis invited the faithful to ask themselves whether they ‘like to be served at table by the Lord, or do they get up and serve like the Lord?’ ‘Do they give back in life what they receive at Mass?’

“And as Church we could ask ourselves: after so many Communion, have we become people of communion?” he said. The Bread of Life, the Pope continued is also the Bread of Peace, and peace comes with conviviality, in “eating bread together with others”, because conflict and war, he said, are rooted in not knowing the other.

“We, who share this Bread of unity and peace, are called to love every face, to heal every tear; to be, always and everywhere, builders of peace” he said.

Turning to the theme of the “Word”, the Pope said there is nothing to be gained by just “discussing the words of Jesus.” The Word of Jesus, he continued, “is to walk in life, not to sit down and talk about what goes and what does not go”.

Reflecting on the first Reading in which the risen Jesus addresses Saul and asks him to put his life at stake saying “Get up and go into the city and you will be told what you must do”, the Pope said the first thing to avoid is to ‘not get up’, to submit oneself to life, to be gripped by fear”. Because one must stand before the Risen One: “one must stand up and look up because an apostle of Jesus cannot just get by in life with small satisfactions”.
