From the Deacon's desk...

This Sunday's Gospel is the story of the vine and the vine grower from John's Gospel. Jesus says: "I am the vine, you are the branches. Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit because without me you can do nothing". We are confronted with 3 ideas: first, that we should seek to be disciples who have a deep and intimate relationship with Jesus, just as he has with the Father; second, we are challenged to learn how abiding in Jesus means that we thrive in community; and third that living the life of a disciple especially means allowing the Lord to prune us, even if it's painful, so that old attitudes and actions can be replaced with ones that are better, ones that enable us to bear much fruit.

Pope Francis: The Last Supper teaches us three foundational truths

By Editor, Catholic News Service, April 26, 2018

Vatican City, (CNA/EWTN News)

Pointing to Jesus' words during the Last Supper, Pope Francis offered meditations on love, service and humility during his homily at daily Mass on Thursday.

washed the feet of his disciples. Christ's actions in these moments, Pope Francis said, teach the Church three "foundational truths."

The first lesson is the commandment of love, which is exemplified in

The Pope reflected on the day's Gospel, John 13, which recounts the moments of the Last Supper where Jesus instituted the Eucharist and the Eucharist, the pope said April 26. "Love is without limits. Without it, the Church cannot move forward; the Church cannot breathe.

Without love, she cannot grow, and is transformed into an empty institution, made up of appearances and actions without fecundity," the Holy Father said.

"In his bodily actions, Jesus tells us how we should love, that is, until the end," he continued, saying that just as Jesus gave himself "to eat and drink, he tells us to love one another in this way."

The second gesture of washing His disciples' feet points to another commandment: service.

"Washing the feet, he tells us to serve each other in like manner," the pope reflected.

In this gesture of service, he noted, lies the third lesson of humility, because "no servant is greater than his master."

"The awareness is that He is greater than all of us, and that we are servants who cannot go beyond Jesus," Pope Francis said. "He is the Lord, not us. This is the Lord's will."

"But beware: no servant is greater than the one who sent him, the master. These blunt words and actions are the foundations of the Church. If we proceed in like fashion with these three points, we shall never fail."

The pope additionally underscored the witnesses of the saints of the Church whose actions radiate what it means to truly serve and who lived "with the awareness of being servants."

Pope Francis ended his homily inviting the faithful gathered to enter into silence, so as to welcome the gaze of the Lord.

"Let Jesus' gaze enter into me. We will feel many things: love, maybe nothing... we might feel trapped there or feel shame," he said. "But always let Jesus' gaze in. It is the same gaze with which he looked at his disciples at supper."
