The Greek word for love used in the gospel is agape (pronounced 'ag-ah-pay'). The Christian writer C.S. Lewis wrote a book called "The Four Loves" in which he discusses four different ways of loving. The first of these is eros, which is physical love, the love of Romeo and Juliet. The second is philia. It is the love of friendship, essentially mutual and shared, expressing itself through intimacy, affection and perhaps sexually. The third love is prautes, sometimes translated as 'gentleness' (as in "Blessed are the meek"). It suggests someone who is warm and caring. Finally, agape describes a love which reaches out to others without expecting anything in return. Such is the love of God for his creation.

Pope to German Bishops: find possibly unanimous arrangement

By Editor, Catholic News Service, May 3, 2018

Vatican City, (Vatican News)

At a meeting in the Vatican on Thursday, senior Vatican officials and members of the German Bishops conference held a conversation on a set of opment of the guidelines, which would potentially broaden permission for non-Catholic Christians who are married to Catholics to receive Holy Communion.

pastoral guidelines announced in February. The German Bishops' Conference at the time approved the devel-

According to a statement from the Holy See Press Office, released in the wake of the encounter, the meeting

(Bishops continued...) took place in a "cordial and fraternal atmosphere."

The German Bishops had been called to Rome by Pope Francis after "a not inconsiderable number" of Bishops expressed their opposition to the proposed guidelines. Seven diocesan Bishops appealed to the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity, and the Pontifical Council for Legislative Texts for clarification.

During the conversation, which took place in German, the Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, Archbishop Luis Ladaria, explained that Pope Francis "appreciates the ecumenical commitment of the German Bishops" and asks them to seek "a possibly unanimous arrangement".

The Press Office statement said that during the meeting, various points of view were discussed, concerning, for example, how the question of extending permission to receive Holy Communion relates to the Faith and to pastoral care; the relevance of the question to the universal Church; and various juridical aspects of the question. "Archbishop Ladaria will inform the Holy Father about the content of the conversation," the statement said.

Thursday's meeting took place at the seat of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith. The following German Bishops were present for the conversation: Cardinal Reinhard Marx, President of the German Bishops' Conference; Cardinal Rainer Maria Woelki, Bishop Felix Genn; Bishop Karl Heinz Wiesemann; Bishop Rudolf Voderholzer; Bishop Gerhard Feige; and Fr Hans Langendorfer, SJ of the Bishops' Conference.

In addition to Archbishop Ladaria, the Holy See was represented by Cardinal Kurt Koch, Msgr Markus Graulich and Fr Hermann Geissler, FSO.
