The Most Holy Trinity, Year B, La Santísima Trinidad, el año B del Evangelio de San Marcus May/Mayo 26/27, 2018

From Deacon John...

Now begins our Sesquicentennial weekend. A time to celebrate and a time to give thanks. We have an opportunity to thank God for all the gifts we receive through the faith and sharings of all those members of Saint Mary who have come before us. It is also a time to be thankful for what is to come. The threefold Spirit of God we honor this weekend ensures there is much more 'life' awaiting this community of faith.

Here are the remaining celebration times and events.

Monday, May 28, 9:00am,

Memorial Day Service at the Cemetery

Monday, May 28, 9:45am

Coffee, pastries and fellowship

Monday, May 28, 10:00am – 2:00pm,

Question of the Week

Trinity– Matthew 28:16-20

Key Passage: “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age.”

Question for adults: What are some of your favorite images of God? Why do you make that choice?

Question for children: What do you think God looks like? How do you picture him?

Pregunta de la Semana

Trinidad -- Mateo 28:16-20

Pasaje Crucial: Aún tengo muchas cosas que decirles, pero todavía no las pueden comprender. Pero cuando venga el Espíritu de la verdad, él los irá guiando hasta la verdad plena, porque no hablará por su cuenta, sino que dirá lo que haya oído y les anunciará las cosas que van a suceder.

Pregunta para los adultos: ¿Cuáles son algunas de tus imágenes favoritas de Dios? ¿Por qué haces esa elección?

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Cómo crees que se parece Dios? ¿Cómo lo imaginas?

From Deacon John...

'One God in three Persons'. The Blessed Trinity should be more than a mystery that we accept on faith. Today's liturgy invites us to listen to familiar texts, and to recognize how they invite us to share in the life which unites Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We recall what took place in the Old Testament, the mystery of God revealed in what God has done for his people. His Spirit was the energizing presence of God, giving the breath of life, and raising up individuals to heroic acts. Long before the writing of the gospels, Paul described the wonder of our sharing in the generous life of Father, Son and Spirit. He writes, 'sharing his sufferings, so as to share his glory'. We can actually say 'Abba, Father!' because we are 'coheirs with Christ'.

Pope Francis : The Holy Spirit makes our works effective

By Editor, Catholic News Service, May 23, 2018

Vatican City, (CNA/EWTN News)

The Holy Spirit helps Catholics to do good works by giving them the gifts they need to be effective 'salt and light' in the world, Pope Francis said at the general audience Wednesday.

Like Jesus said: "You are the salt of the earth... you are the light of the world," the pope said May 23, explaining that the images of salt and light "make us think of our conduct, because both the lack and the excess of salt make food disgusting, as the lack and the excess of light prevent us from seeing."

"Who can really make us salt that gives flavor and preserves from corruption, and light that enlightens the world?" he asked. "It is only the Spirit of Christ!"

Explaining that at the moment of Confirmation the bishop says,

"Receive the Holy Spirit, which has been given to you," Francis said the sacrament is "a great gift of God, the Holy Spirit within us."

"The Spirit is in our heart, is in our soul. And the Spirit guides us in life, so that we become the right [amount of] salt and the right [amount of] light for men." Pope Francis spoke about Confirmation after concluding his weekly reflections on Baptism, which he said is "the first step." After Baptism, "it is then necessary to behave as children of God, that is, to conform to Christ who works in the holy Church," he said.

"If in Baptism it is the Holy Spirit that immerses us in Christ, in Confirmation it is Christ who fills us with his Spirit," he said. In Confirmation, Christ consecrates Catholics "as his witnesses, partakers of the same principle of life and mission, according to the plan of the heavenly Father."

Becoming involved in Christ's mission in the world: "This is what the anointing of the Holy Spirit provides," he continued.

The pope also explained that the sacrament is called "Confirmation" because it "confirms Baptism and strengthens its grace," noting that in (Spirit continued) the Italian language, the sacrament is called "Cresima," to recall the anointing with chrism oil, which confers the power of the Holy Spirit.

It is also appropriate to speak about Confirmation following the celebration of Pentecost, the pope said, because the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the disciples calls to mind the infusion of the Holy Spirit at Confirmation.

"Pentecost, which we celebrated Sunday, is for the Church what was for Christ in the anointing of the Spirit received at the Jordan, the missionary impulse to consume life for the sanctification of men, to the glory of God."

If in every sacrament the Spirit works, it is especially in Confirmation that "the faithful receive the Holy Spirit as a gift," he concluded. "Christian witness consists in doing only and all that the Spirit of Christ asks of us, granting us the strength to do it.

At the end of the general audience, Francis pointed out that Thursday, May 24, is the feast day of the Blessed Virgin Mary, "Help of Christians," which is particularly venerated at the Shrine of Our Mother of Sheshan near Shanghai, China.

This feast day "invites us to be spiritually united to all the Catholic faithful who live in China," he said, praying for Chinese Catholics, that through the intercession of Our Lady, they would live their faith "with generosity and serenity... fraternity, concord and reconciliation, in full communion with the Successor of Peter."

"Dearest disciples of the Lord in China, the universal Church prays with you and for you, so that even among the difficulties you may continue to entrust yourselves to God's will. Our Lady will never fail to help you and guard you with her motherly love."
