The Most Holy Body and Blood, Year B, El Cuerpo y la Sangre de Cristo, el año B del Evangelio de San Marcus June/Junio 2/3, 2018

From Deacon John...

Today is the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. The Gospel for today reminds us that the Eucharist is a memorial of Christ's sacrifice on the cross. We believe that Jesus is truly present to us in the elements of bread and wine. Each time we celebrate this sacrament, we prepare for the Kingdom of God. This celebration, as the Second Vatican Council taught us, is the source and summit of the Christian life.

Hoy es la solemnidad del Santísimo Cuerpo y Sangre de Cristo. El Evangelio de hoy nos recuerda que la Eucaristía es un memorial del sacrificio de Cristo en la cruz. Creemos que Jesús está verdaderamente presente en los elementos del pan y el vino. Cada vez que celebramos este sacramento, nos preparamos para el Reino de Dios. Esta celebración, como nos enseñó el Concilio Vaticano II, es la fuente y la cumbre de la vida cristiana.

From Deacon John...

Today is the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. At one time, this day was called Corpus Christi, the Latin for "the Body of Christ." In our current rites, the feast uses as it's name, a more complete reflection of Catholic Eucharistic theology. The Gospel for today reminds us that the Eucharist is a memorial of Christ's sacrifice on the cross.

Mark describes what he believes most important: Jesus took bread and wine, blessed it and shared it with his disciples. We believe that Jesus is truly present to us in these elements of bread and wine. Each time we celebrate this sacrament, we prepare for the Kingdom of God. This celebration, as the Second Vatican Council taught us, is the source and summit of the Christian life.

Pope Francis : Marriage is an image of God

By Editor, Catholic News Service, May 31, 2018

Vatican City, (CNA/EWTN News)

Pope Francis spoke about the beauty of marriage at the Casa Santa Marta on Friday. Among the faithful present at the morning Mass were seven married couples celebrating their 25th and 50th wedding anniversaries.

The Gospel passage for the day, from the Gospel of St Mark, speaks of the intentions of the Pharisees, who asked Jesus a question precisely in order to test Him. Pope Francis described questions of this kind, about what you can or can't do, as casuistic. He explained: "Not the great 'yes' or 'no,' with which we are familiar. This is God." Instead, the Pharisees reduce the Christian life, the way of following God, to a question of "yes, you can," or "no, you can't."

The question posed by the Pharisees concerned marriage; they wanted to know if it was lawful for a husband to divorce his wife. But, said Pope Francis, Jesus goes beyond the simple question of lawfulness, going back to the "the beginning." Jesus speaks about marriage as it is in itself, perhaps the greatest thing created by God in those seven days of Creation.

"From the beginning of creation, God made them male and female. For this reason, a man shall leave his father and mother, and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh." Jesus words in the Gospel are very strong, the Pope said. He speaks of "one flesh" which cannot be divided. Jesus "lays aside the problem of separation, and goes to the beauty of the couple," who ought to be one. The Pope continued: We must not focus, like these doctors do, on [the answer] "Yes, you can" divide a marriage, or "No, you can't." At times there is misfortune, when it doesn't work, and it is better to separate in order to avoid a world war. But this is a misfortune. Let us go and look at the positive.

Pope Francis told of how he met a couple who were celebrating 60 years of marriage. He said he asked them, "Are you happy?" They looked at one another, and with tears in their eyes, answered, "We are in love!"

It's true that there are difficulties, there are problems with children or (marriage continued) arguments and fights... but the important thing is that the flesh remains one, and you can overcome, you can overcome, you can overcome. And this is not only a sacrament for them, but also for the Church, a sacrament, as it were, that attracts attention: "See, love is possible!" And love is capable of allowing you to live your whole life "in love": in joy and in sorrow, with the problems of children, and their own problems... but always going forward. In sickness and in health, but always going forward. This is beautiful.

Man and woman are created in God's image and likeness; and for this reason, marriage likewise becomes an image of God. This makes marriage very beautiful, the Pope said. "Matrimony is a silent homily for everyone else, a daily homily."

It's sad when this is not news: the newspapers, the TV news shows, don't consider this news. But this couple, together for so many years... it's not news. Scandal, divorce, separation – these are considered newsworthy. (Although at times its necessary to separate, as I said, to avoid a greater evil). The image of God isn't news. But this is the beauty of marriage. They [the couple] are the image and likeness of God. And this is our news, the Christian news.

Marriage and family life is not easy, the Pope repeated. He pointed to the first Reading, where St James speaks about patience. Patience, he said, is "perhaps the most important virtue for the couple – both for the man and for the woman." He concluded his homily with a prayer that the Lord "might give to the Church and to society a more profound and more beautiful understanding of marriage, so that we all might be able to appreciate and reflect upon [the fact] that the image and likeness of God is present in marriage."
