26th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B, 26° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año B del Evangelio de San Marcus September/Septiembre 29/30, 2018

From Deacon John...

Mark has a lesson as important today as when Jesus was instructing his disciples. Authentic faith and discipleship must reflect the inclusive ways of God as proclaimed by Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount: 'Love your enemies ... you must set no bounds to your love, just as your heavenly Father set none to his'. 'Anyone who is not against us is for us', are words filled with both logic and wisdom. The Lord is at work in every heart empowering the desire for good. Who are we to judge the mysterious purposes of God?

Marcos tiene una lección tan importante hoy como cuando Jesús estaba instruyendo a sus discípulos. La fe auténtica y el discipulado deben reflejar los caminos inclusivos de Dios proclamados por Jesús en el Sermón del Monte: "Ama a tus enemigos ... no debes poner límites a tu amor, así como tu Padre celestial no le dio ninguno". "Cualquiera que no esté en contra de nosotros es para nosotros", son palabras llenas de lógica y sabiduría. El Señor está trabajando en cada corazón potenciando el deseo del bien. ¿Quiénes somos para juzgar los misteriosos propósitos de Dios?

Question of the Week

26th Sunday – Mark 9:38-48

Key Passage:

Jesus replied, "Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for them if a great millstone were put around their neck and they were thrown into the sea. If your hand causes you to sin, cut it off."

Question for adults:

In what way might you be an occasion of sin for another person?

Question for children:

Why is it important to help friends younger than you to do the right thing?

Pregunta de la Semana

26° Domingo-- Marcos 9:38-48

Pasaje Crucial:

Pero Jesús le respondió: "Al que sea ocasión de pecado para esta gente sencilla que cree en mí, más le valdría que le pusieran al cuello una de esas enormes piedras de molino y lo arrojaran al mar. Si tu mano te es ocasión de pecado, córtatela.

Pregunta para los adultos:

¿De qué manera podrías ser una ocasión de pecado para otra persona?

Pregunta para los niños:

¿Por qué es importante ayudar a amigos más jóvenes que tú a hacer lo correcto?

From Deacon John...

Mark has a lesson as important today as when Jesus was instructing his disciples. The acts and events that characterize groups upholding a religious tradition often becomes exclusive and intolerant. John reports disapprovingly that they had seen a man 'casting out devils' in the name of Jesus. Authentic faith and discipleship must reflect the inclusive ways of God as proclaimed by Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount: 'Love your enemies ... you must set no bounds to your love, just as your heavenly Father set none to his'. 'Anyone who is not against us is for us', are words filled with both logic and wisdom. The Lord is at work in every heart empowering the desire for good. Who are we to make judgments that may obstruct the mysterious purposes of God?

Pope at Mass: the cross teaches us not to fear defeat

By Editor, USCCB News, September 14, 2018

WASHINGTON--Describing Satan as evil who is demolished and chained, he warned those present that he "still barks" and that, if you approach him to caress him, "he will destroy you."

The Pope explained that when we contemplate the cross, the mark of Christians, we contemplate a sign of defeat but also a sign of victory: "All that Jesus did during his life" failed on the cross - he said - and all the hope of his followers came to an end.

"We must not be afraid to contemplate the cross as a moment of defeat, of failure. When Paul reflects on the mystery of Jesus Christ, he says some powerful things. He tells us that Jesus emptied himself, annihilated himself, was made sin to the end and took all our sins upon himself, all the sins of the world: he was a 'rag', a condemned man. Paul was not afraid to show this defeat and even this can enlighten our moments of darkness, our moments of defeat. But the cross is also a sign of victory for us Christians".

The Pope recalled that in the first Reading, the Book of Numbers tells of the moment during the Exodus when the people who complained "were punished by serpents". This, he said, refers to the ancient serpent, Satan, the "Great Accuser". But, the Pope continued, the Lord told Moses that the serpent that brought death would be raised and would bring salvation. Francis explained that this "is a prophecy". In fact, he said, "having been made sin, Jesus defeated the author of sin, he defeated the serpent". And Satan, the Pope commented, was so happy on Good Friday "that he did not notice" the great trap "of history in which he was to fall.

As the Fathers of the Church say, Pope Francis continued, Satan saw Jesus in such a bad state, and like a hungry fish that goes after the bait attached to the hook, he swallowed Him. "But in that moment, the Pope said, he also swallowed His divinity because that was the bait attached to the hook. "At that moment, the Pope said, Satan was destroyed forever. He has no strength. In that moment the cross became a sign of victory".

"Our victory is the cross of Jesus, victory over our enemy, the ancient serpent, the Great Accuser" the Pope said. "We have been saved" by the cross, by the fact that Jesus chose to sink to the very lowest point, but with the power of divinity".

"Jesus said to Nicodemus: When I am lifted up I will draw all people to myself". Jesus was lifted up and Satan was destroyed. We must be attracted to the cross of Jesus: we must look at it because it gives us the strength to go forward. And the ancient serpent that was destroyed still barks, still threatens but, as the Fathers of the Church say, he is a chained dog: do not approach him and he will not bite you; but if you try to caress him because you attracted to him as if he were a puppy, prepare yourself, he will destroy you".

Our life goes on, Pope Francis concluded, with Christ victorious and risen, and who sends us the Holy Spirit; but also with that chained dog, the devil, "whom I must not draw close to because he will bite me".

"The cross teaches us that in life there is failure and victory. We must be capable of tolerating defeat, of bearing our failures patiently, even those of our sins because He paid for us. We must tolerate them in Him, asking forgiveness in Him, but never allowing ourselves to be seduced by this chained dog. It will be good if today, when we go home, we would take 5 minutes in front of the crucifix, either the one we have in our house or on the rosary: look at it, it is our sign of defeat, it provokes persecutions, it destroys us; it is also our sign of victory because it is where God was victorious".
