The Epiphany of the Lord, Year C, Solemnidad de la Epifanía del Señor, el año C del Evangelio de San Lucas January / Enero 5/6, 2019

From Deacon John...

The Magi come following an astrological sign, so we believe them astrologers. We assume three based upon their three gifts. In Matthew they represent the Gentiles' search for a savior. We believe the meaning of the gifts to be Christological. Gold is kingship, Frankincense is divinity and Myrrh, used to prepare for burial, is anticipation of Jesus' death. Epiphany means "manifestation" or "showing forth." We celebrate several moments in Christ's life as "epiphanies," including his birth in Bethlehem, the visit of the Magi, his baptism by John, and his first miracle at Cana.

Los Reyes Magos vienen siguiendo un signo astrológico, por lo que creemos que son astrólogos. Asumimos tres basados en sus tres dones. En Mateo representan la búsqueda de los gentiles de un salvador. Creemos que el significado de los dones es cristológico. El oro es la realeza, el incienso es la divinidad y la mirra, que se usaba para el entierro, es la anticipación de la muerte de Jesús. Epifanía significa "manifestarse". Celebramos momentos en la vida de Cristo como "epifanías", incluido su nacimiento, la visita de los Magos, su bautismo de Juan y su primer milagro en Caná.

Question of the Week

The Epiphany – Matthew 2:1-12

Key Passage: ...in the days of King Herod, behold, magi from the East arrived in Jerusalem...the star that they had seen at its rising preceded them until it came and stopped over the place where the child was. They were overjoyed at seeing the star and on entering the house they saw the child...they opened their treasures and offered him gifts...

Question for adults: Recall a life event that became an 'epiphany' for your household.
Question for children: If you were one of the magi, what gift would you bring to Jesus? Why?

Pregunta de la Semana

La Epifanía -- Mateo 2:1-12

Pasaje Crucial: ...en tiempos del rey Herodes, u nos magos llegaron entonces a Jerusalén...los magos se pusieron en camino, y de pronto la estrella que habían visto surgir, comenzó a guiarlos, hasta que se detuvo encima de donde estaba el niño. Al ver de nuevo la estrella, se llenaron de inmensa alegría. Entraron en la casa y vieron al niño...abriendo sus cofres, le ofrecieron regalos...

Pregunta para los adultos: Recuerde un evento de la vida que se convirtió en una "epifanía" para su hogar.
Pregunta para los niños: Si fueras uno de los magos, ¿qué regalo le llevarías a Jesús?

Pope to US Bishops on abuse: Be attentive and discerning

By Editor, Vatican News, January 3, 2019

(Vatican News) “With these few lines, I would like to draw near to you as a brother,” Pope Francis writes to the U.S. Bishops, who are taking part in a spiritual retreat to consider their response to the crisis of clerical sexual abuse.

In his letter, the Pope says he wants to encourage the Bishops in their prayer, and in the steps they are taking “to combat the ‘culture of abuse’ and to deal with the crisis of credibility.”

careful that ‘the cure does not become worse than the disease.’”

Pope Francis notes “the Church’s credibility has been seriously undercut” by abuse of power and conscience, and by sexual abuse; “but even more by the efforts made to conceal and deny them.” The attempt to cover-up such “sins and crimes,” he says, “enabled them to fester and cause even greater harm.”

Pope Francis writes to the Bishops of the United States on their spiritual retreat. In the context of the abuse scandals, he calls for “conversion” and

Be attentive and discerning

“At times of great confusion and uncertainty,” he writes, we need to be attentive and discerning, to free our hearts of compromises and false certainties, in order to hear what the Lord asks of us in the mission He has given us.” But, the Pope warns, while many actions may be “helpful, good, and necessary,” they may not have “the ‘flavor’ of the Gospel.” “To put it colloquially,” he says, “we have to be

A renewed approach

The Pope says, “combatting the culture of abuse, the loss of credibility, the resulting bewilderment and confusion, and the discrediting of our mission urgently demand of us a renewed and decisive approach,” which cannot be reduced simply to “issuing stern degrees,” or “creating new committees or improving flowcharts.” “In a word,” he says, “a new ecclesial season needs bishops who can teach (Pope continued) others how to discern God’s presence in the history of His people, and not mere administrators.” Pope Francis says, “our primary duty is to foster a spirit of discernment.” This, he continues, “will enable us to be immersed in reality, seeking to appreciate and hear it within, without being held hostage to it.”

The renewal called for by Pope Francis involves a “collegial awareness of our being sinners in need of constant conversion” which will “allow us to enter into affective communion with our people.” This approach, he says, “demands of us the decision to abandon a modus operandi of disparaging, discrediting, playing the victim or the scold in our relationships, and instead to make room for the gentle breeze that the Gospel alone can offer.”

Credibility and trust

Credibility, the Pope insists, “is born of trust, and trust is born of sincere, humble and generous service to all, but especially to those dearest to the Lord’s heart.”

“How sublime is the task at hand,” the Pope says to the Bishops. “We cannot keep silent or downplay it because of our own limitations and faults.” Quoting Mother Theresa, he says “Yes, I have many human faults and failures... but God bends down and uses us, you and me, to be His love and His compassion in the world; He bears our sins, our troubles, and our faults.”
