The Baptism of the Lord, Year C, Solemnidad del Bautismo del Señor, el año C del Evangelio de San Lucas January / Enero 12/13, 2019

From Deacon John...

The baptism of Jesus is another "epiphany." On this last day of the Christmas season, our Gospel reveals to us Jesus' relation to God: the son of Mary and Joseph and God. The entire Trinity is here: the Father in the voice, the Holy Spirit descending, and Jesus the Son. Luke is communicating to us who Jesus is. In the verses that follow, Luke traces Jesus' ancestry back to the first person, Adam, also the son of God. We, the children of Adam and Eve, are again made children of God through Baptism.

El bautismo de Jesús se considera una otra "epifanía". En este último día del tiempo de Navidad, nuestro Evangelio nos revela la relación de Jesús con Dios: el hijo de María y José es también el propio Hijo de Dios. Los tres miembros de la Trinidad se manifiestan aquí: Dios el Padre en la voz, el Espíritu Santo descendiendo y Jesús el Hijo. Lucas nos comunica información importante sobre la identidad de Jesús. Lucas enumera la genealogía de Jesús, rastreando la ascendencia de Jesús hasta la primera persona, Adán, también el hijo de Dios. Nosotros, los hijos de Adán y Eva, somos hijos de Dios nuevamente a través del Bautismo.

Question of the Week

Baptism of the Lord – Luke 3, 15-16. 21-22

Key Passage: “Jesus also had been baptized and was praying, heaven was opened and the Holy Spirit descended upon Him in bodily form like a dove. And a voice came from heaven. ‘You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased.’”

Question for adults: If you were to offer comment upon the current state of your life what would it be? Would the words “well pleased” be part of your description?

Question for children: Jesus asks us to always try to do and to be good. When is it hard for you to do what Jesus asks? Why?

Pregunta de la Semana

Bautismo del Señor -- Lucas 3, 15-16. 21-22

Pasaje Crucial: ...también Jesús fue bautizado. Mientras éste oraba, se abrió el cielo y el Espíritu Santo bajó sobre él en forma sensible, como de una paloma, y del cielo llegó una voz que decía: "Tú eres mi Hijo, el predilecto; en ti me complazco".

Pregunta para los adultos: Si tuvieras que ofrecer un comentario sobre el estado actual de tu vida, ¿cuál sería? ¿Serían las palabras "complacido" parte de su descripción?

Pregunta para los niños: Jesús nos pide que siempre tratemos de hacer y ser buenos. ¿Cuándo te cuesta hacer lo que Jesús te pide?

Meeting among Pastors with a specific purpose

By Andrea Torielli, Vatican News, January 10, 2019

Looking ahead toward the meeting with Presidents of Episcopal Conferences regarding the protection of minors and vulnerable adults.

(Vatican News) There are excessive media expectations in view of the upcoming meeting called by Pope Francis on the subject of protecting minors and vulnerable adults, as if it were an event halfway between a council and a conclave.

These expectations risk overshadowing the ecclesial significance of a meeting among Pastors, among Presicounter-witness to the Gospel, will help to increase everyone's awareness of the seriousness of the crisis.

The phenomenon of the abuse of minors, the horrific experiences of the victims, the procedures to be applied in the face of accusations, and the indications to ensure a safe environment for children and young people, will thus be examined from a perspec-

dents of Episcopal Conferences of the whole world who, together with the Successor of Peter, will reflect on the theme of abuse.

What needs to be emphasized, above all, is the universality that is typical of the Catholic Church and that reverberates in the meeting. The presence of bishops from all over the world, called together for the first time to address this painful plague which has been, and is, a source of enormous suffering for victims and of tive that is not solely European or American.

The purpose of the meeting is very specific: to ensure that everyone taking part in it can return to their own country being absolutely clear about what must (and must not) be done with regard to addressing these cases.

Namely, what steps must be taken to protect the victims, with respect for the truth and the people involved, in order to ensure that no more cases are stonewalled or covered up.

Obviously, it will be necessary to await the dialogue among the bishops, and the proposals that will be put forward, in order to better clarify or specify some particular aspects of the legislation in force on the matter. With the awareness that this is not a "year-zero" in the fight against abuse, because in the last sixteen years many significant and concrete steps have been taken.

The rules on how to respond have been established and strengthened by the will of recent Popes. In some cases, these can be defined as "emergency responses" because of the speed of action they allow against those who are guilty of this crime.

But norms, laws, codes, and procedures that are increasingly perfected and precise, are not enough; they can never be enough if the mentality and the hearts of those who are called to apply them do not change. For this reason, Pope Francis continues to point out the path of conversion.

For this same reason, it is important that each of the participants in the meeting listen to the testimonies of surviving victims, and take the witness of Benedict XVI and his Successor as an example. Both of them, in the last ten years and in various parts of the world, have met with victims, listened to them, and wept with them, sharing their suffering.

In his recent speech to the Roman Curia, Pope Francis reaffirmed very strongly that even a single case of abuse would be "something itself monstrous".

Then Pope Francis added that the heavily anticipated February meeting will serve as an attempt "to make past mistakes opportunities for eliminating," the scourge of abuse, "not only from the body of the Church but also from that of all society".
