Second Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year C, Segundo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año C del Evangelio de San Lucas January / Enero 19/20, 2019

From Deacon John...

Marriage and the wedding feast are metaphors used to describe God's salvation and Kingdom. John explains that Jesus will fulfill Yahweh's promise. A hint about what this New Covenant will be is evident in the deed that Jesus performs. Asked to address the awkward situation that no wine at a feast would create, Jesus' miracle produces vast quantities of wine, much more than is needed. This lavish response to human need is a vision for us of the abundance of God's kingdom. It challenges us to respond to human need today.

El matrimonio y la fiesta de bodas son metáforas que se usan para describir la salvación y el Reino de Dios. Juan explica que Jesús cumplirá la promesa de Jehová. Un indicio de lo que será este Nuevo Pacto es evidente en el hecho que Jesús realiza. Cuando se le pidió que abordara la incómoda situación que no crearía el vino en una fiesta, el milagro de Jesús produce grandes cantidades de vino, mucho más de lo que se necesita. Esta lujosa respuesta a la necesidad humana es una visión para nosotros de la abundancia del reino de Dios. Nos desafía a responder a la necesidad humana de hoy.

Question of the Week

Ordinary Time Week 2 – John 2:1-11

Key Passage: When the wine ran short, the mother of Jesus said to him: 'They have no wine.' And Jesus said to her, 'Woman, how does your concern affect me? My hour has not yet come.' His mother said to the servers: 'Do whatever he tells you.' ...Jesus did this as the beginning of his signs in Cana in Galilee and so revealed his glory and his disciples began to believe in him.

Question for adults: What role does Mary play in your faith life?

Question for children: How important to you is Mary, Mother of Jesus?

Pregunta de la Semana

Tiempo Ordinario Semana 2 -- Juan 2:1-11

Pasaje Crucial: Como llegara a faltar el vino, María le dijo a Jesús: "Ya no tienen vino". Jesús le contestó: "Mujer, ¿qué podemos hacer tú y yo? Todavía no llega mi hora". Pero ella dijo a los que servían: "Hagan lo que él les diga"...Esto que hizo Jesús en Caná de Galilea fue el primero de sus signos. Así manifestó su gloria y sus discípulos creyeron en él.

Pregunta para los adultos: ¿Qué parte tiene María en tu vida de fe?

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Qué tan importante para ti es María, Madre de Jesús?

Marriage and the wedding feast are metaphors used in Scripture to describe God's salvation and the Kingdom of God. At the beginning of Jesus' public ministry, John's Gospel explains that Jesus is going to re-interpret and fulfill Yahweh's promise to Israel. A hint about what this New Covenant will be is evident in the deed that Jesus performs. Asked to address the awkward situation that no wine at a feast would create, Jesus' miracle produces vast quantities of wine, six jars holding thirty gallons each are filled to overflowing with choice wine, much more than is needed. This lavish response to a simple human need is a vision for us of the abundance of God's kingdom. It challenges us to respond generously when confronted with human need today.

Word of God is not ideology, it is life that makes us grow

By Editor, Vatican News, January 17, 2019

What does it mean for a Christian to have a “perverse heart?” That was the theme of Pope Francis’ homily at the Mass at Casa Santa Marta.

(Vatican News) “Take care, brothers, that none of you may have an evil and unfaithful heart, so as to forsake the living God.” This is the “warning” as Pope Francis calls it, that the author of the Letter to the Hebrews addresses to the Christian community in today’s liturgy. The Pope warns that the Christian community, in all its components - “priests, nuns, bishops”, runs this danger of “slipping towards a perverse heart”.

But what does this warning mean to us? The Pope focuses on three words, again taken from the First Reading, which can help us to understand: “hardness”, “obstinacy”, and “seduction”.

A hard heart is a “closed” heart, “that does not want to grow, that defends itself, that is closed in on itself”. In life this can happen because of many factors; as, for example, a “great sorrow”, because, as the Pope explains, “blows harden the skin”. It happened, he said, to the disciples of Emmaus, as well as to St Thomas the Apostle. And whoever remains in this “bad attitude” is “fainthearted”; and a “cowardly heart is perverse”:

We can ask ourselves: Do I have a hard heart, do I have a closed heart? Do I let my heart grow? Am I afraid that it will grow? And we always grow with trials, with difficulties, we grow as we all grow as children: we learn to walk [by] falling. From crawling to walking, how many times we have fallen! But we grow through difficulties. Hardness. And, what amounts to the same thing, being closed. But who remains in this? “Who are they, father?” They are the fainthearted. Faintheartedness is an ugly attitude in a Christian, he lacks the courage to live. He is closed off...

The second word is “obstinacy”: In the Letter to the Hebrews we read, “Exhort each other every day, as long as this today lasts, so that none of you may be obstinate”; and this is “the accusation that Stephen makes to those who will stone him afterwards”. Obstinacy is “spiritual stubbornness”: an obstinate heart, explains Pope Francis, is “rebellious”, is “stubborn”, is closed in by its own thought, is not “open to the Holy Spirit”. This is the profile of “ideologues”, and of the proud and the arrogant:

Ideology is a [kind of] obstinacy. The Word of God, the grace of the Holy Spirit is not ideology: it is life that makes you grow, always, [that makes you] go forward, and also opens your heart to the signs of the Spirit, to the signs of the times. But obstinacy is also pride, it is arrogance. Stubbornness, that stubbornness that does so much harm: closed-hearted, hard – the first word – those are the fainthearted; the stubborn, the obstinate, as the text says the ideologues are. But do I have a stubborn heart? Each one should consider this. Am I able to listen to other people? And if I think differently, do I say, “But I think this...” Am I capable of dialogue? The obstinate don’t dialogue,

(Ideology continued) they don’t know how, because they always defend themselves with ideas, they are ideologues. And how much harm do ideologues do to the people of God, how much harm! Because they close the way to the work of the Holy Spirit.

Finally, in order to help us understand how not to slip into the risk of having a perverse heart, the Pope reflects on the word “seduction”: the seduction of sin, used by the devil, the “great seducer”, “a great theologian but without faith, with hatred”, who wants to “enter and dominate” the heart and knows how to do it. So, concludes the Pope, a “perverse heart is one that lets itself be seduced; and seduction leads him to obstinacy, to closure, and to many other things”:

And with seduction, either you convert and change your life or you try to compromise: but a little here and a little there, a little here and a little there. “Yes, yes, I follow the Lord, but I like this seduction, but just a little...” And you’re starting to lead a double Christian life. To use the word of the great Elijah to the people of Israel at that moment: “You limp from both legs”. To limp from both legs, without having one set firmly. It is the life of compromise: “Yes, I am a Christian, I follow the Lord, yes, but I let this in”. And this is what the luke-warm are like, who always compromise: Christians of compromise. We, too, do this: compromise. Even when the Lord shows the path, even with the commandments, and the inspiration of the Spirit, but I prefer something else, and I try to find a way to go down two tracks, limping on both legs.

The Pope concludes, “may the Spirit, enlighten us that no one may have a hard heart, which will lead you to faintheartedness; a stubborn heart that will lead you to rebellion, that will lead you to ideology; a heart that is seduced, a slave to seduction”.
