We lift up to the Lord our seminarian Erick Chinchilla; those who enter the eternal peace of Christ, especially Shirley Ann Richardson, and all the sick, especially Father Ed Doyle and Gary Drummond. May the immense mercy of almighty God provide every need. We pray too, for those who struggle with grief or addictions, those who feed the world, and those who labor to provide our well being, especially first responders and the military.

Father Doyle suffered a light stroke this past week and is no longer available to receive or communicate with visitors or correspondents.

Fourth Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year C, Cuarto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, el año C del Evangelio de San Lucas February / Febrero 3, 2019

From Deacon John...

This Gospel is about who Jesus is and who people believe him to be. The story of preaching and rejection at Nazareth is found in each of the Synoptic Gospels. In Luke, this incident foretells Jesus' passion and death and explains the Gentile role in the promise of salvation. Luke puts this at the start of Jesus' ministry; in Matthew or Mark, it is after Jesus preached and taught elsewhere, and the townspeople take offense because Jesus is only the son of a carpenter. They reject his authority. In Luke, Jesus challenges to respond to his message as that of a prophet and this leads to his rejection.

Este Evangelio trata sobre quién es Jesús y quiénes las personas creen que es. La historia de la predicación y el rechazo en Nazaret se encuentra en cada uno de los evangelios sinópticos. En Lucas, este incidente predice la pasión y muerte de Jesús y explica el papel de los gentiles en la promesa de la salvación. Lucas pone esto al comienzo del ministerio de Jesús; en Mateo y Marcos, es después de que Jesús predicó y enseñó en otros lugares y la gente del pueblo se ofende porque Jesús es el hijo de un carpintero. Ellos rechazan su autoridad. En Lucas, Jesús desafía a la gente a responder a su mensaje como un profeta y esto lleva a su rechazo.

Question of the Week

Ordinary Time Week 4 – Luke 4:21-30

Key Passage:

“‘Amen I say to you, no prophet is accepted in his own native place...’ When the people heard this, they were all filled with fury. They rose up, driving him out of town...”

Question for adults:

How do you react to truth you do not want to hear?

Question for children:

What do you do when you don't get your way?

Pregunta de la Semana

Semana 4 -- Lucas 4:21-30

Pasaje Crucial:

“Yo les aseguro que nadie es profeta en su tierra...Al oír esto, todos los que estaban en la sinagoga se llenaron de ira, y levantándose, lo sacaron de la ciudad y lo llevaron hasta una saliente del monte, sobre el que estaba construida la ciudad, para despeñarlo.

Pregunta para los adultos:

¿Cómo reaccionas ante la verdad que no quieres escuchar?

Pregunta para los niños:

¿Qué haces cuando no te salgas con la tuya?

From Deacon John...

People are surprised but not immediately offended by Jesus' words in the synagogue. It is the words that follow his reading from the prophet Isaiah that seem to offend them. Jesus challenges and provokes the people of Nazareth by referring to examples in which Israel rejected the prophets. He also challenges them to respond to his message in a way that is different from their ancestors. This call leads to his rejection. After Jesus' words of challenge, Luke says that Jesus walks away from the crowd that intended to kill him; it is not yet his time. The animosity of the people of Nazareth prefigures and prepares the reader of Luke's Gospel for the cross. Luke wants all to understand that it is through his death on the cross that Jesus offers God's salvation to all.

Pakistan's Christians laud their Supreme Court's definitive acquittal of Asia Bibi

By Robin Gomes, Vatican News, January 31, 2019

Leaders of Pakistan's Christian community regard the definitive acquittal of Asia Bibi as "a milestone in the history of Pakistan."

(Vatican News) Christians in Pakistan are all praise for the Supreme Court's decision and offered thanksgiving prayers for the definitive acquittal and freedom of Asia Bibi, the Catholic woman sentenced to death for blasphemy and acquitted by the Supreme Court on October 31.

Pakistan's Supreme Court on January 29 upheld the acquittal of Bibi, rejecting a review petition filed by Islamists who have called for her execution.

Asia Bibi

"Christian citizens, lovers of peace, thank God for the conclusion of this painful affair", Fr. Bonnie Mendes, senior priest and human rights expert in Pakistan told the Vatican's Fides news agency.

Fr. Qaisar Feroz OFM Cap, Executive Secretary of the Commission for Social Communications of the Pakistan Catholic Bishops' Conference (PCBC), also praised the courage of the Supreme court, the judge and lawyers.

"The decision of the Supreme Court on Asia Bibi's acquittal is a milestone in the history of Pakistan to eradicate religious fundamentalism," he told Fides. "Not only do we have to rejoice for the freedom of an innocent woman, but the efforts of the lawyers and the courage of the Supreme Court are to be appreciated, too".

Sabir Michael, a Christian human rights activist, praised the "sensible manner" in which the judicial system handled the matter "according to the rule of law". "This decision," he said, "is a ray of hope for the minorities living in Pakistan, but there is still a lot of work to be done to promote and protect the rights of minorities".

He expressed the Christian community's hope it will be a precedent for other such pending cases.

Joseph Francis, national director of the Center for Legal Aid Assistance and Settlement (CLASS), which helps persecuted religious minorities in Pakistan, told UCANEWS at a press briefing outside the court soon after the Jan. 29 verdict, "We hail the Supreme Court judges for being courageous in making such a historic judgment which will impact similar cases in days to come."

Joining Francis at the press briefing was Bibi's lawyer Saiful Malook who flew in from his asylum in the Netherlands for Tuesday's verdict.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Mohammad Faisal confirmed that after the decision of the Supreme Court of Pakistan, Asia Bibi is now a free citizen, can move and live a free life.

citizen, can move and live a free life.

However, Francis is concerned for Bibi's safety. He pointed out that "firebrand clerics have called for her murder". "She cannot live freely as other citizens," he said, adding minorities are encouraged by liberal Muslims like Malook who extended their support to victims of blasphemy.

The Cecil and Iris Chaudhry Foundation (CICF), a Catholic NGO, applauded the Supreme Court verdict as "historic, fair and impartial decision".

"Despite the landmark judgment in this case, CICF continues to demand of the authorities to revisit Pakistan's blasphemy laws and to take concrete measures to prevent their misuse, which is drastically affecting the lives of both Muslim and non-Muslim Pakistanis," the foundation said in a press statement.

Samson Salamat, the Christian chairman of the interreligious Rawadari Tehreek (Movement for Tolerance), demanded a penalty against the cleric who falsely accused Bibi of blasphemy, saying "he should be tried for lying, misguiding a court, imprisoning an innocent woman for nine years and endangering her life."

Salamat also demanded the apex court question the lower courts for denying justice to Bibi. He praised the Pakistani government for "arresting extremists complicit in spreading anarchy in the country and holding the state hostage."
